PRISONER CONFESSES THEFT OF $350,000 IN SECURITIES

Man Who Buncoed National City Bank Placed Under Arrest.

TELLS WHOLE STORY

The Perpetrator of Sensational Swindle in New York Breaks Down in Jail.

WAS TO HAVE BEEN MARRIED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Oct. 1.

Locked up in police headquarters, with his full confession in the possession of Capt. John McCauley, is the young man who, by means of a forged check last Wednesday, obtained from the National City bank securities valued at $350,000. He was arrested this morning just as he stepped from his home and was on his way to church.

Four hours later, after he had defeated every effort of Capt. McCauley and George S. Dougherty, superintendent of the Pinkerton detective agency, to persuade him to confess, he broke down, and in a flood of tears told the complete story of his crime.

Capt. McCauley tonight had in his possession more than one-half of the stolen securities. The remainder has been located and will be in his hands tomorrow morning.

In order that the full ends of justice may not be defeated and because of the fact that the father and mother of the young man have not been informed of his crime or of his arrest, his name, at the request of the authorities, is withheld. He has not been connected with the National City bank which was robbed, nor with Pearl & Co., the firm of bankers which had hypothecated with the bank the securities that were purloined.

Engaged to Society Girl.

His engagement to a young woman well known in society of this city was recently announced and he was soon to have been married.

According to the confession he signed this afternoon the crime was all his own from its inception to its execution. He had made arrangements to dispose of the stocks and bonds which he had stolen, but at the time of his arrest not one of them had been hypothecated by him. After he had completed and signed his confession he said that until the moment of his arrest he did not deem it possible he could be detected.

The young man, who set the entire banking world of the country by the ears and who was at least partly successful in the greatest robbery that has been done in more than two decades, in appearance is little more than a school boy. He is about five feet nine inches tall, smooth of face and with an expression of freshness that has deceived all who have known him.

For more than four years he has been connected with the firm of stock brokers, where he has obtained his education that made it possible for him to rob the National City bank.

Theft Well Planned.

There is no detail of stock transfer with which he is not familiar. So complete, in fact, is his knowledge of the work which had been intrusted to him that on various occasions it has been possible for him to save his employers considerable sums which, had it not been for him, would have been wasted. He told Capt. McCauley today that his crime first found germination in his mind when he began to study how to make it impossible for just such a theft to be committed.

It so happened that after he had completed in his mind a method whereby a bank might be robbed by means of forged checks and his method for preventing such a crime, it became his duty to have recorded with the National City bank a transfer of bonds. He was present when Pearl & Co. hypothecated the securities upon which they obtained a loan of $300,000.

He knew that which even the employes of Pearl & Co. did not know—that the loan was at the rate of interest of ½ per cent. Right then he determined to take advantage of the stock

M'CALL REFUSES TO TURN BACK THE MONEY

Peremptorily Rejects Demand That He Return Campaign Gift to New York Life.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—It was reported today Attorney General Mayer had made a demand on John A. McCall that he return to the treasury of the New York Life Insurance Company the $50,000 he contributed to the Republican campaign fund. It was further stated Mr. McCall had peremptorily refused to make restitution. Mr. McCall refused to talk.

It was also reported today that subpoena servers of the legislative insurance committee were hunting for Warren F. Thummell, a lawyer, who, according to the testimony of Alfred W. Maine, auditor of the Equitable, looked after the interests of the Mutual, New York Life and Equitable in the middle Atlantic states, working in conjunction with Judge Hamilton.

Mr. Hughes, in his examination this week, is expected to bring to light further facts relating to the deal in Chicago & Alton 3½ per cent refunding bonds, by which the New York Life Insurance Company lost $600,000, as told in the testimony elicited before the committee last Wednesday.

It became known today that, owing to the refusal of the savings banks of this city and throughout the state to purchase these bonds, although a bill had been jammed through the legislature adding these bonds to the list of savings bank securities, the insurance company realized a loss instead of a profit. It was confidently expected this special act of legislation, passed in February, 1900, would create such a demand for these bonds among savings banks, that the New York Life would clean up a five or six-point profit in the venture.

CAREFULLY PLANS DEATH.

Wealthy Publisher and Writer Commits Suicide in an Atlantic City Boarding House.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—W. B. Saunders, a wealthy medical publisher and writer of Philadelphia, 47 years old, carefully planned and carried out his death by gas and laudanum. He was residing, a nervous wreck, in Chelsea, where two male nurses took care of him.

Saunders slipped out of their sight yesterday afternoon and registered at a boarding house in Virginia avenue. He made inquiries if gas was used in the sleeping rooms, and on being assured no electricity was used, he replied: "That's what I want. I am tired and worn out. Don't call me for dinner."

The odor of gas in the hallway caused Saunders' door to be forced at 10 o'clock this morning. He was found dead in bed, the gas jet flowing, and bound over his nose was a laudanum-saturated sponge.

STEAMER IS BLOWN UP.

Coasting Vessel Strikes a Mine in Chinese Waters and Fifteen Persons Are Drowned.

CHEFOO, Oct. 1.—The coasting steamer Hsiesho, plying between Shanghai and Tien Tsin, struck and was totally destroyed by a mine 90 miles south of the Shantung promontory yesterday morning. Fifteen persons on board the vessel were drowned, including among them Engineers Mauchan and Murl.

The foreign passengers and a portion of the crew of the Hsiesho were rescued by two passing steamers.

TAFT AND HIS PARTY ARRIVE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—William H. Taft, secretary of war, and the party which accompanied him through the far east arrived in Chicago this evening. They left here for Washington at 7 o'clock tonight. During the short stop in Chicago none of the members of the party left the cars, and for that reason no effort was made to entertain them as guests of Chicago.

MOORE CLAIMS HE MADE WALLACE RESPONSIBLE

Director Says Finerty Club Officials Complained to Him of Gambling Resort.

"Officials of the Finerty club complained to me that a gambling place was being conducted in the club's name in Second avenue, and I referred the matter to Superintendent Wallace," said Harry Moore, director of public safety, last night, when asked what he knew about the bogus "Finerty club" at 520 Second avenue, which was raided Saturday night by the county detectives after the Pittsburgh police had refused to interfere.

Director Moore put the responsibility for the existence of the gambling resort upon Superintendent Wallace by stating he approved the action of the county authorities in raiding the resort, and that the police force would have raided it if he had known such a resort existed.

"The district attorney did right in having the place raided, and the police would have closed it if I had known it," said Director Moore.

"You say officials of the Finerty club called on you and asked the resort in Second avenue be closed and you referred them to Superintendent Wallace. Did Superintendent Wallace make any report to you about it afterward?"

This question Director Moore dodged.

"I can't say definitely whether he did or not. I have some data in my desk at the public safety building which I would have to examine before I could say whether he had or not," replied the director.

At first Director Moore said he could not remember anything about the Finerty club.

"I have a great many clubs reported to me, and it is hard to remember all of them," he said. Then he had another thought.

"Oh, yes, I remember now that three men came to my office with a charter of the Finerty club, and I turned them over to Mr. Wallace."

"That was on September 6, the day Superintendent Wallace gave the men a receipt for their charter, and yet you cannot remember whether Superintendent Wallace ever spoke to you about the matter?"

"No, I can't tell whether he talked to me about it or not. I can't say until I go to my office and examine my papers to refresh my memory."

"What are you going to do about it, director, if you find it to be true that Superintendent Wallace recognized the real Finerty club by giving a receipt for its charter and then failed to close the bogus resort run in its name?"

"Now, I really could not say what I will do. That would not be proper," replied the director.

"You are going to investigate and take some action?"

"I certainly will investigate," was all the chief of the public safety department would promise to do.

FIVE MORE DIE FROM TYPHOID AT NANTICOKE

WILKES-BARRE, Oct. 1.—The typhoid fever situation increases at Nanticoke almost every hour, and today was a gloomy Sunday for the residents of that town. Five more deaths occurred since last night. There are now 320 cases in Nanticoke and vicinity.

FIRE DESTROYS $250,000 IN A BRILLIANT BLAZE

1,000,000 Valuable Patterns Burned at Mackintosh-Hemphill Plant.

MANY THOUSANDS VIEW SPECTACLE

Illumination Is Witnessed by Packed Humanity on Shores and Bridges.

STRONG WIND SAVES PLANT

Stiff Breeze Carries the Flames from the Other Buildings—Pattern Structure Is Burned to the Ground With All Its Contents—Origin Is Only Conjectured.

A brilliant spectacle for many thousands of people on the shores of the Allegheny river for two miles upstream, was afforded last night by the burning of the large, four-story pattern building of Mackintosh, Hemphill & Co., at the foot of Twelfth street, and the destruction of between 500,000 and 1,000,000 valuable patterns of machinery, with a total loss of $200,000 or $250,000.

The fire broke out at about 6:30 o'clock and, fanned by a stiff breeze blowing toward the river, burned fiercely for three hours, the inflammable contents of the building producing a blaze that illuminated the Allegheny river and the wharfs of the two cities brightly as day. Every possible point of vantage along the river front was crowded with spectators—the bridges, railroads, wharves, tops of freight cars and houses. Scores of small craft moved out into the river and anchored there to get a better view.

Strong Wind Saves Plant.

The strong wind, which added vigor to the flames, blew northward and saved the entire plant from destruction. This wind, with the aid of the firemen, kept the flames from spreading south over the entire works. It carried sparks of the fire over the river bank and far out into the stream, the sight resembling a huge display of Fourth of July pyrotechnics.

The pattern building, which was totally destroyed with its entire contents, was a structure of wooden frame covered with sheet iron, four stories high, 170 feet long and 20 feet wide. It stood on the river bank alongside the tracks of the Pittsburgh Junction railroad. Back of it from the river are the foundries, machine shops and office buildings of the company, which were threatened with destruction.

Time Lost in Sending Alarm.

Close to the pattern house was a paint shop filled with oils, benzine and paints.

Two Fires Discovered By the Same Man

It is a strange coincidence that Albert Rose, who discovered the fire last night at the Mackintosh, Hemphill & Company's plant at the foot of Twelfth street, and called the department, is the same man who discovered and sent in the alarm at the mysterious fire at the plant of the Sterling Paint and Glass Company, in South Tenth street about a month ago. Rose was employed as driver at the Sterling company's plant and recently took a job as laborer at the Mackintosh-Hemphill plant. The causes of both fires were unknown and the losses were heavy.

STRAINS OF THE WEDDING MARCH SURPRISE GUESTS AT A HOTEL

Miss Bertha Henshaw Sweeney of Chicago and Francis L. Ferguson Join Their Lives in Picturesque Ceremony at the Lincoln.

While the guests at the Hotel Lincoln loitered in the lobby last evening they pricked up their ears when the strains of a wedding march stole in from the upstairs lobby. It was just 6 o'clock and it seemed like an odd dinner tune. They noticed also that more than the usual number of people in evening dress had flitted through the halls a few moments before. No extraordinary festivities had been announced and the increasing volume of the inspiring music from "Lohengrin" caused those in the dining-room to grow suspicious.

"I saw all the bell boys marshaled upstairs wearing white gloves," said one of the women behind her fan.

"And the elevator will not stop at the parlor floor," said some one else.

"I have seen an amazing lot of bandboxes coming in during the week."

"And this afternoon I saw a very charming young woman in a gorgeous satin gown and I wondered," said one of the women curiously bending her head to catch the deep chords of the romantic melody that by this time floated like phantom music through the entire building.

While the guests were still perplexed and were curious to know what was going on on the immuned parlor floor, Miss Bertha Henshaw Sweeney of Chicago was walking down the palm-embowered corridor on her father's arm. Under an arch at the entrance of one of the parlors, where the palms and flowers were banked in a profusion of rose-garden beauty, stood Francis L. Ferguson, a Pittsburgh contractor, waiting to meet his bride. It was then that the guests in the lobby and the dining-rooms were wondering why the orchestra had chosen a wedding march. Miss Sweeney had come from Chicago to be married at the home of her uncle, A. L. Richman of the Lincoln. With Mr. Ferguson she planned to have the ceremony come as a surprise to their friends, and no person outside of the Ferguson and the Sweeney families were apprised in advance of the nuptials. Mrs. P. L. Wickersham of New York was matron of honor, and Mr. Richman was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson left at 11 o'clock on their honeymoon.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sweeney, Chicago. She is prominent in musical circles and is a graduate of St. Mary's academy of South Bend, Ind., and of the Chicago Musical college.

PARTY SUPREMACY IN NATION IS DEPENDENT ON THE STATE

SENATOR PHILANDER C. KNOX.

DONS MALE ATTIRE AND HUNTS FOR HER LOVER

Pretty New Castle Girl Arrested While Lying in Wait for Recreant Swain.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 1.—Miss Adelaide Kelley of Mahoningtown, 22 years old and pretty, was arrested in male attire in the street at 1:30 o'clock this morning by Chief of Police Spiers as a suspicious character. She gave the name of "Jack" Farrell when arrested, but her sex was immediately discovered when the chief began to search for weapons.

Adelaide told the chief she worked at a blast furnace, but could not remember the name. She carried an iron gas shaker taken from a heater, that was over a foot long and made an excellent weapon. At the police headquarters she refused to tell her real name and spent the night in the woman's department, clad in men's clothes.

At the police court this morning the girl was immediately recognized by Mayor Haines, who has known her since childhood. Then the story came out. She had been receiving attentions from a young man named Gibson, of whom she had become jealous. Miss Kelley lives with her sister, a Mrs. Fowler of Cherry street, and last night about 11 o'clock she clothed herself in her brother-in-law's attire and started out to wait for Gibson. Chief Spiers found her two hours later loitering near Gibson's home. Her recreant lover would have fared badly if she had met him and used her iron weapon.

The girl evinced embarrassment in the police court this morning in her male attire. She was committed to jail for a further examination tomorrow.

MAD DOG BITES THREE CHILDREN IN SCOTTDALE

One of the Victims Is a Seven-Year-Old Girl Who Was Trying to Protect Her Little Brother.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCOTTDALE, Oct. 1.—A mad dog which bit a child last night and disappeared before it could be shot, ran amuck again this morning while the streets were full of people on their way to church. Two more children were bitten before the dog was killed.

The dog first appeared last night near Jacobs Creek church and bit the little son of Frank Burnett. This morning the dog rushed into the yard of Frederick Farley and attacked Farley's 7-year-old niece, sinking its teeth into both her arms and lacerating her right hand. The girl received her wounds while trying to protect her little brother.

The dog then ran to the home of Albert C. Medagar and bit his 5-year-old son. After a chase of more than a mile the dog was shot and his head was taken to Pittsburgh for examination. Several dogs in the neighborhood are reported to have been bitten.

Senator Knox Discusses Pennsylvania Politics and Trusts.

FORECASTS VICTORY

Believes the Republican Ticket in This State Will Win in November.

MUST MEET PUBLIC DEMANDS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM CHESTER D. POTTER, Staff Correspondent.

VALLEY FORGE, PA., Oct. 1.—Senator Philander C. Knox, at his home here, today discussed with The Gazette correspondent the political situation in the state. The senator also touched interestingly upon the relations which railroads, insurance companies and corporations generally sustain to the public. The investigation of insurance companies, now under way, gives particular importance at this time to the senator's views.

Until now Senator Knox has not expressed any views upon the campaign in Pennsylvania. This has not been because of his lack of interest, or because of any uncertainty in his mind as to the general result, but for the reason that his time has been occupied exclusively by his official duties. Since his election as United States senator Mr. Knox has given little if any attention to the practical operation of politics, in his home state, and has rarely expressed opinions bearing upon this subject. He is not lacking in intimacy with the situation and at all times has the political situation well within his understanding. Because of this ultra-conservatism the political predictions of Mr. Knox carry great weight. When asked today for an expression on the state campaign, the senator said:

Should Meet Demands of People.

"All I have to say on the subject of Pennsylvania politics is:

"I will vote the entire Republican state ticket in November, and I believe it will be elected. I believe in electing Republicans to the state offices, and that the Republican party should then see that they administer the offices faithfully and well.

"I believe the best way to maintain national Republican supremacy is to maintain the supremacy of the party within the state, and the best way to maintain the supremacy of the party within the state and to make the state's influence properly felt is to give heed to, in my judgment, to have the party meet the just and reasonable demands of the people for wise legislation and honest administration. I am satisfied that this is the view of the great majority of Pennsylvanians and a great majority of Pennsylvania Republicans."

Replying to inquiries on the subject of the insurance investigation, railroads and other corporations, the senator disposed of the matter by quoting from speeches and letters he himself had written two and three years ago upon this subject. He said his views were fully expressed in his speech before the chamber of commerce in Pittsburgh, October, 1902; in his letter to Senator Hoar in January, 1903, and in the report of the Frost committee, which investigated the character of the management of the Equitable Life Assurance society last spring, of which committee Mr. Knox was counsel.

Opinion Needs No Revision.

References to the address and letter delivered the fact that what Mr. Knox said in Pittsburgh in 1902 and what he wrote to Senator Hoar in 1903 requires no revision. His opinions were based upon the principle of a "square deal," and were so intelligently and comprehensively expressed that they are as adequate today as they were at the time they were uttered.

In his Pittsburgh chamber of commerce speech of 1902 Mr. Knox said in part:

"Corporations serving the public as carriers and in similar capacities should be compelled to keep the avenues of commerce free and open to all upon the same terms and to observe the law as to its injunctions against stifling competition. Moreover, corporations upon which the people depend for the necessities of life should be required to conduct their business so as regularly and reasonably to supply the public needs.

"They should be subject to visitorial supervision, and full and accurate information as to their operations should be made regularly at reasonable intervals. Secrecy in the conduct and results of operation is unfair to the non-managing stockholders, and should, as well for reasons of state, be prohibited by law.

Would Allay Apprehension.

"If these serious evils were eradicated and a higher measure of administrative responsibility required in corporate officers, a long step would be taken toward allaying the reasonable apprehension that the unchecked aggression of the trusts will result in practical monopoly of the important business of the country."

The letter of 1906 to Senator Hoar contained the following:

"My suggestion, therefore, is that as a first step in a policy to be persistently pursued until every industry, large and small, in the country can be assured of equal rights and opportunities, and until the tendency to monopolization of the important industries of the country is checked, that all discriminatory practices affecting interstate trade be made offense to be enjoined and punished. Such legislation to be directed alike against those who give and those who receive the advantages thereof."

The Frick report contains the following:

"It is elementary that a corporation is a trustee for its stockholders, the funds and other property held in the name of the corporation constituting the trust estate; and where the business conducted is that of insurance the corporation is also a trustee for the policyholder. At least this is so in the case of mutual insurance or insurance conducted on the mutual plan. But a corporation must act through natural persons and therefore, those who exercise the corporate powers—the officers and directors—necessarily assume the character of trustees.

Stricter Than the Moral Code.

"With respect to the funds and other property of the society they are, therefore, in the highest sense fiduciaries and are governed by the principles of the law of trusts, which are not less strict—in some instances stricter—than the moral code itself. One of the most fundamental of these principles is that a trustee shall not profit at the expense of the trust estate. Another closely connected with that just mentioned, is that a trustee shall not enter into any relation with the trust estate in which his interests and those of the estate may conflict, as for example, the relation of buyer and seller.

"The imperative need in this and all other similar associations is a more lively sense of the true nature of the relations existing between the society and the assured and of the duties owing by the management to both. When we consider that the fabulous accumulation held by such associations represent a voluntary tax placed by the provident upon their lives, and when we recall the tremendous self-denial and sacrifice that is represented in daily living to secure provision against the inevitable, then we begin to realize the high and delicate nature of the trust involved in the administration of such a fund.

"Every economy consistent with sound administration and moral progress should be practiced. Excessive salaries, excessive commissions, excessive expenses and superfluous offices should not be tolerated. Investments should be carefully made and all the useful formal precautions employed to insure the location of the moral responsibility of the officers who are charged with the duty of making them."

APPEALS TO LONDON FOR MACEDONIAN PROTECTION

Massacre by Turkish Troops Brings Suggestion for European Control in the Balkans.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Noel Buxton, M. P., chairman of the Balkan committee, wrote to Foreign Minister Lansdowne with reference to the massacre by Turkish troops in the Macedonian village of Konopnitza, suggesting the enforcement of European control of Macedonia, if necessary by the aid of a naval demonstration.

Lord Lansdowne replied to the effect that the government was already investigating the incident with a view to diplomatic representations to the porte and said he had ascertained that the Turkish authorities had sent a commission to the scene, the report of which was awaited.

W. A. Moore, secretary of the Balkan committee, who returned to London from a two months' tour of Macedonia, reported this massacre yesterday.

PLATT IS AGAINST GOVERNOR HIGGINS

Senator Declares He Does Not Favor Another Term for Him Under Any Circumstances.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, who arrived from Washington today, said tonight:

"I am against Gov. Higgins for another term under any circumstances." He declined to say who his candidate for governor would be.

"Who is your candidate for United States district attorney?" the senator was asked.

"I am for Robert C. Morris," was the reply, "first, last and all the time."

Senator Elsberg has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the district attorney's position. "What do you think of him?" the senator was asked.

"The president told me last night Elsberg was not a candidate. The only other name I have heard mentioned is that of James R. Sheffield."

The senator was asked if he had heard of the meeting between Odell and Woodruff, where Woodruff was said to have been promised the Republican nomination for governor next year if he would make the run for mayor this year. To this the senator replied he had not, and added: "It is a question whether Mr. Odell could guarantee that, and even if he could, whether he would keep the guarantee."

HONOR MISS ROOSEVELT.

President's Daughter Starts for Yokohama Amid a Demonstration in Japanese Waters.

TOKYO, Oct. 1.—Miss Alice Roosevelt arrived at Shimonoseki this morning, and went aboard the steamer Minnesota, without going ashore. The Minnesota left for Yokohama at 11 o'clock.

Miss Roosevelt was welcomed by numerous steam launches decorated with Japanese and American flags and the harbor presented a lively appearance until after the Minnesota cleared.

REGAL HONORS ACCORDED A WAIF OF THE STREETS

South Side Societies Turn Out With Music and Glittering Pageant at the Christening of a Foundling.

The whole South Side yesterday paid homage to a foundling. They marched him through the streets with a brass band, they christened him Herman Siedel, Jr., at St. Michael's Roman Catholic church, they kissed him and caressed him, and bestowed gifts and blessings upon him. Three weeks ago he was born—nobody knows where. He was found on a doorstep in Clinton street with nothing on but his swaddling clothes. Now he is a hero with a multitude to wish him well.

This is the brief but remarkable biography of a tiny, blue-eyed baby boy who was carried through the streets with a procession that looked like a pageant in honor of a new-born scion of royalty. Two companies turned out in military uniforms, the band playing jubilee music, while thousands on the streets cheered and waved flags and handkerchiefs. The boy today is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Siedel of 8 Pius street.

The child was found in Clinton street by Mrs. Mary Knorr. She carried the boy to No. 7 police station, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Knorr of 41 Pius street, who requested permission to keep the baby. This was granted, and she took him along home. Her husband objected, however, and the next day she returned the child to the station house. There he remained for two days and the police were beginning to despair of getting him off their hands.

Father Sebastian of St. Michael's church heard of the baby and happened to think of two of his parishioners, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Siedel, who were childless, and who he knew had a great longing for a son. The priest hurried over to the home of the Siedels, and finding Mrs. Siedel at home told her of the baby and advised her to go at once to No. 7 police station and take him. She did as he advised, and when the husband came home at night he found her working to properly attire the little one.

Although at first Mr. Siedel demurred, he was finally won over and yesterday anybody who tried to take the baby away from them would have met with a cold reception.

Yesterday was a special day for children at St. Michael's church, and the Germania band, Company A, Knights of St. George of Birmingham, and Company G of Riceville were present at the service. A happy thought struck Mr. Siedel that this would be the time for the christening, so he hurried to Father Sebastian, who at once gave his consent. He then applied to the military companies and the band and they consented to participate.

They then repaired to the house, where the procession was formed. The band led, followed by the Knights of St. George, and last came Mr. and Mrs. Siedel, Mr. Siedel carrying the child. The unique procession attracted thousands of people, and the church was soon packed. After Father Sebastian had baptized the child the procession again formed and returned to the Siedel home.

ROCKEFELLER ESSAYS A JUVENILE STORY

Tells Children of Small Boy Who Dreamed He Made a World Without a Sunday School.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 1.—"This is the happiest day of my life," said John D. Rockefeller at noon, as he emerged from the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, where he was the central figure of the rally of the Sunday school. Arriving at the church this morning he saw two urchins, brother and sister, in ragged clothes, standing near the door. Approaching them he patted each on the back, asked their names and gave each a dollar.

Mr. Rockefeller entered the Sunday school room and soon was called upon for a speech. He said in part:

"Well, boys and girls, I welcome you up here with the older folk, and I'm going to tell you a story. There was once a little boy, just like you down there in the front row. He didn't like things as they were. He dreamed one night he made a world where there was no Sunday school. He thought he liked it. He thought in his sleep it was a beautiful place, but soon he began to miss something. He took the matter to heart. Somebody asked if he had made that world. 'Yes,' he answered, tearfully, 'but I'll never do it again.'"

The story brought down the audience, and the applause was deafening.

YOUNG MR. ROCKEFELLER DISAPPOINTS HIS CLASS

Illness Prevents Their Millionaire Teacher from Being Present, but He Sends a Message.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—There was much disappointment at the opening of the Young Men's Bible class this afternoon because John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was not present, as the members had been led to believe he would be. Mr. Rockefeller, however, sent a personal message to the class through the Rev. W. S. Richardson, assistant pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, who will act as temporary leader.

"Mr. Rockefeller," he said, "asked me to remember him to every man who might be here this afternoon. He was wondering how many would be here. He wished me to say he is improving in health, and, although no definite word will be said as to his return, his interest in the class is keener now than ever."

Just after the opening of the class a middle-aged woman sought admittance. She said she had come to see Mr. Rockefeller regarding the report of his interest in tenement house reform in New York, and brought with her plans to give him her idea of what a model tenement house really should be.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE PRESIDENT OF CUBA

HAVANA, Oct. 1.—(Special Cable.)—An attempt to assassinate resident Palma by drowning has been made. Recently wedges had been found driven into a bridge over which he passed, the wedges being so arranged that had his car struck them at anything near its usual speed it would have been thrown into the water with him. However, the car was running slowly and passed over the obstruction in safety.

MOTHER OF H. C. FRICK DIES

MRS. ELIZABETH FRICK.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Frick, aged 86 years, mother of Henry C. Frick, the Pennsylvania coke king, died here at 10 o'clock tonight. The immediate cause of death was paralysis, the fatal attack coming Saturday night.

Mr. Frick reached this city a few hours before his mother died, but was not at the bedside. He arrived at noon and believing that his mother would live a few days hastened on the limited this evening to meet his wife and daughter when they arrived in New York from Europe.

Mrs. Frick was a native of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., where she lived until 25 years ago. Mr. Frick was devoted to his mother and visited her frequently. Besides H. C. Frick, she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Anna Braddock of Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Mrs. J. S. R. Overholt, Mrs. W. A. Lott, Edgar and Aaron Frick of this city.

CLUBBED LABORERS FROM STEAMER AT ISTHMUS

Men Imported to Work on the Panama Canal Refused to Disembark.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COLON, Oct. 1.—Six hundred and fifty laborers from Martinique, brought here Friday on the French steamer Versailles under contract to work on the canal, refused to disembark or to submit to vaccination, which is imperative under the American sanitary regulations. They clamored to be taken back to Martinique, asserting that they had been misinformed as to the conditions here before they embarked, and that later they learned these conditions were intolerable and deadly.

Yesterday morning, however, 500 of them were with difficulty persuaded to land and these were sent to points along the line of the canal. One hundred and fifty remained on board and declined to leave the ship under any consideration. These were forcibly ejected from the vessel this afternoon by Panama and canal zone policemen, but not until nearly every one of them had been clubbed, and several were bleeding from nasty wounds. All of yesterday and last night the Versailles was guarded by Panama policemen.

Early this morning the French consul at Colon, M. Bonhenry, appealed to the men to listen to reason, explaining that they had left Martinique under contract with the canal zone emigration agent, he agreeing to the payment of their passage here, and that while working on the canal they would have in addition to their wages the guarantee of free quarters and free medical attendance.

Men Invoked Death.

The men, however, were not amenable to this reasoning. Notwithstanding the effort of the consul and the Panaman and American officials and despite the information given them by several of their countrymen, that health and other conditions on the isthmus were satisfactory and that the terms of their employment would enable them to save money, they persistently refused to leave the ship, baring their breasts and invoking death in preference to going ashore.

The captain of the Versailles, who all through the trouble displayed an extraordinary amount of patience, told the men that he was ready to take back to Martinique all those who were able to pay their passage, but the men argued that the French government would be willing to reimburse the steamship company and that they themselves were penniless.

Before noon at the instance of M. Raven, the agent of the company, and of the French consul, a squad of 12 Panaman police went on board the vessel and told the men that force would be used if they persisted in their refusal to disembark. Seeing that the police were armed with bayonets and guns the men again bared their breasts and said they preferred death rather than be taken ashore. Gov. Mallendes, Mayor Andron, the chief of police and others argued with the men but again without effect.

Tried to Avoid Bloodshed.

Ten additional policemen arrived at the wharf but the governor, wishing to avoid bloodshed and considering that the police force was insufficient, telegraphed President Amador asking permission to use the canal zone police, to which the president consented. In the meantime 12 policemen from the zone had arrived at the dock and were being held in readiness.

At 2 o'clock the laborers were informed that they would be given two hours to reconsider their decision, and at 4 o'clock three of them consented to disembark, the others still holding out. Then the Panama police, armed with clubs, approached the laborers and on their refusing to quit the ship began to club them right and left.

The zone police, a few minutes later, assisted in the clubbing, but with better judgment and less indiscriminately. About 50 of the laborers leaped into the sea, but all of the men were able to swim. The captain, however, lowered a boat which picked them up. Nearly every man had received blows and several of them were bleeding from ugly wounds.

Seeing that resistance was useless the men yielded, came ashore and began to eat the food which had been placed on the dock in sight of them for several hours. Many of them had not eaten since Saturday.

PRISONER CONFESSES

shares and the bonds which had been used as collateral.

How he succeeded the city, and, in fact, the entire country, now knows. Yet to Capt. McCauley today he said that he now realized he made several blunders, and expressed the opinion that the most ordinary precautions on the part of the employes of the National City bank would have made it impossible for him to succeed.

His Blunders Overlooked.

After having seen the transaction completed and having made up his mind to rob the National City bank, the young forger went to the Hanover National bank, where from a desk he picked up a pad of ordinary blank checks. He said today that the form of the check should have stamped it as a fraud, and had he his thgit to repeat he would have the office check of Pearl & Co. properly copied by some printer or engraver.

Instead of using a stamp for the purpose of numbering the forged check, he used an ordinary pen and red ink. That, he told Capt. McCauley, was his second blunder, yet it was overlooked.

It was not any of his crude methods, however, that brought about the arrest of the young forger. He knew that no check would be accepted by the teller of the National City bank unless it was properly certified. Accordingly he went to an obscure stampmaker, from whom he obtained a die such as is used by the banks in preparing for the certification of checks. It was this die which led to his arrest.

The maker of the stamp was located and taken to Wall street, where the identification was made complete. Yet the employers of the young man so thoroughly trusted him that they insisted a mistake had been made and that he could not be the thief.

When the young forger gave the order for the certification stamp he directed that it should be sent to him in care of one of the local branches of the Young Men's Christian association. The clerk who delivered the stamp to him made the identification complete by telling Capt. McCauley that no mistake had been made.

WILL NOT ACCEPT COMEZ' RESIGNATION

HAVANA, Oct. 1.—A national convention of the Liberal party tonight decided not to abandon the presidential campaign and refused to accept the resignation of Jose Miguel Gomez, the party's candidate for the presidency. WARNS PUPILS AGAINST THE FRAUDULENT IDEALS

President of Yale University Tells of What Leads to Unchristian Civilization.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 1.—Dr. Arthur Hadley, as president of Yale university, in his address at the first Sunday divine service of the academical year, warned students against ideals that lead to "fraudulent ideals, bad politics and unchristian civilization." He said in part:

"If a man's purposes and ideals are such that he is seeking to attain them for himself at the expense of his fellowmen they are pagan ideals. If his ideals are such that each step toward their realization means the advancement of those about him, his purposes are Christian. Let us look at its application in various fields. What is the pagan ideal of sport? To win whether you play fair or not. What is the Christian ideal? To play the game fairly for all that it is worth and win if you can.

"If we hold the former ideal every game that we play is a training for fraudulent business, bad politics and unchristian civilization. If we play with the latter purpose in view every game is a training for that public service in church and state for which Yale college was founded."

FIRE DESTROYS $250,000

This building caught fire after the explosives had been removed. Half a dozen freight cars, loaded with scrap iron and stone, stood on the railroad track alongside the burning building and they were consumed, with thousands of wooden molding-flasks which were piled high on the river bank, adding to the general illumination.

The fire was discovered at the Twelfth street end of the pattern building and in the second story. Its origin is attributed to a spark from a passing locomotive, but this is mere conjecture, as the watchman said the windows on the river side were always kept closed to prevent sparks from railroad locomotives coming in.

The blaze was first seen by Albert Rose, a laborer, who got the key and attempted to send in an alarm from the box in front of the building at Twelfth street. In breaking the glass door of the box he cut his hand and after getting the key into the hole failed to turn it. Several other men attempted to turn the key with no better success. Valuable time was consumed in this way and then Rose had to run to box 18, at Thirteenth street, to get in the alarm. Two alarms were sent in.

Hose Burst in Many Places.

By this time the fire was in all parts of the building and all the firemen were able to do when they arrived was to confine the fire to the one building. Seven engines and a dozen lines of hose were soon working. Difficulty was experienced in making hose connections, some of the lines being made 1,000 feet long to reach the fire. Much of the hose proved to be rotten from long usage and burst in half a dozen places, requiring the water to be shut off until the hose was repaired. The bursting of hose at large fires is a common sight, owing to the fact, it is stated, that the present department of public safety has purchased little hose during its term of office. Director Moore said last night that only 5,000 feet of hose had been purchased for the entire fire service during the nearly three years since he has been in office.

Fireman John Stafford of truck A was severely burned about the arms by a hot piece of sheet iron falling from the burning building, and he required the services of a physician.

Million Patterns Destroyed.

The total loss from the fire is estimated at from $200,000 to $250,000 by Joseph Fawell, president of the company, who says the loss is fully covered by insurance. The principal loss is due to the destruction of valuable patterns for every class of machinery, including stationary engines of every type, steel castings and housings. It is claimed that between 900,000 and 1,000,000 patterns were destroyed, but the number cannot be closely approximated until the catalogues of the stock are examined.

President Fawell said the loss on patterns would probably amount to about $150,000 to $200,000, loss on building $30,000, and loss on equipment of the building $20,000. The equipment consisted of machinery, elevators, pumps, hydraulic rams and electric motors.

To the combustible quality of the hundreds of thousands of patterns consumed, all of which were made of dry pine wood, was due the brilliancy of the illumination produced by the fire. Mr. Fawell said every one of the patterns could be replaced. He said the fire would not interfere with the operation of the plant; that it would lay off only a few men, as the majority of the patternmakers would be employed in making new models.

ARMY TACTICIANS QUARREL.

British General Declares German Captain's Criticisms on Defense of London Are Worthless.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Daily Mirror asserts that Captain Von Losberg, who was attached to the staff of the American army in the Porto Rican and Philippine campaign, and who recently on behalf of Emperor William observed the British maneuvers for the defense of London, has sent a confidential report to the emperor severely criticising what he alleges to be the incompetence of British generalship, characterizing General French's defense of London as mere stupidity, and declaring any continental army of 50,000 men could reach London three days after landing at Hull.

General French in reply denounces Captain Von Losberg's criticisms as worthless.

BERRY IS HERE TO SEE CASTLE

Wants to Get Pointers on Fighting the Saloon and Not Offend the Democrats.

GORDON USES HIS HATCHET

William H. Berry, the Prohibition-Democratic candidate for state treasurer, came to Pittsburgh last night. His visit is for the purpose of conferring with Homer L. Castle and other Prohibitionists about the best way to fight the saloon and at the same time not drive Democrats away from his support. He spent the night as the guest of Mr. Castle.

Berry is having rough sledding. Two hard blows in one week have made him sit up and take notice. He had hoped to secure the indorsements of the Citizens party in this county and of the City party in Philadelphia. Here he was traded off by his supposed friends and in Philadelphia the independents took occasion to serve notice the Quaker City contest is purely local and has no relation to the state campaign.

His failure to secure an indorsement in Philadelphia will cost Berry thousands of votes. He makes no attempt to conceal his disappointment. The Democrats down there entered into a one-sided fusion arrangement with the City party. They gave the independents the privilege to name all of the county candidates and in return expected to secure the indorsement of Berry. This program was not to the liking of Judge Gordon. He is against anything Col. Guffey is for. It was his pleasure to drive nails in the coffin of the gubernatorial campaign in 1902, and if it were necessary to do anything to help defeat Berry in Philadelphia this fall, the judge would lend a hand. Gordon is hopeful of having his crowd do things in Pennsylvania next year, and a Guffey victory this fall is not wanted by him.

The manner in which Berry's state tour is being managed furnishes sufficient evidence the Democratic state committee has no hope of electing him. The candidate is allowed to slosh through Pennsylvania. No effort is being made to advertise his meetings. Berry has no acquaintance with Democrats in the state. If a reception committee does go to the railway station, none of its members know the candidate and he inquires the way to a hotel, and in the course of an hour or two he is discovered.

The Democratic headquarters has not issued any lithograph pictures of the candidates. Neither has it invested in buttons. The mayor of Chester has simply been given a roving commission. His itinerary is so arranged that a great deal of unnecessary traveling is done. Few people are attending his meetings and many Democrats think he is just the candidate of the Prohibitionists and are waiting for their party nominee to come. In November the voters will bury Berry.

CONFERENCE MEMBERS TO ATTEND DRAVO FUNERAL

Methodist Episcopal Clergymen Are to Honor Memory of Eminent Layman of That Denomination.

In respect and appreciation of the services he rendered the Methodist Episcopal church, both financially and in deed, members of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, almost as a unit, will attend the funeral services over the remains of Capt. John F. Dravo in Beaver tomorrow morning.

The 81st annual meeting of the Pittsburgh conference will open the same evening in the new Methodist Episcopal church in Beaver, and the representatives of the conference have arranged to arrive in Beaver in the morning to pay tribute to one who is acknowledged to have been the most eminent layman in the conference.

Capt. Dravo gave about $25,000 to the Beaver Methodist Episcopal church during his lifetime, and was a liberal contributor to all branches of Methodist church work in this and other communities. For years he was lay preacher in the Methodist Episcopal chapel in Vanport, near Beaver, and was its sole support. It was known as Dravo chapel.

The annual session of conference will not be formally open until Wednesday morning, but Tuesday night will be devoted to the celebration of the 80th anniversary of that body. A special and extended program has been arranged, and it is expected that Bishop Earl Cranston will preside. During the convention proper considerable business of importance is to be transacted. The ministerial changes will be much fewer than in recent years.

START NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL.

First English Lutheran Church Begins New Work in Shadyside.

The congregation of the First English Lutheran church, Grant street, of which the Rev. Dr. D. H. Geissinger is pastor, organized a new Sunday school in the Alinda Preparatory school building, Shadyside, yesterday afternoon.

Nearly 200 members of the congregation and their children were present and the initial enrollment was over 50 scholars. N. W. Bikle is superintendent of the new school, which will be conducted indefinitely in the Alinda school building each Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The school has been organized at the request of many members of the congregation who reside in the district.

Operating Table Instead of Banquet.

George S. Jones of Second street, Braddock, had planned to celebrate the first anniversary of his marriage yesterday by entertaining a large number of friends and relatives. Instead he was operated on at Mercy hospital for appendicitis, and his condition is serious.

POLICE WORKING TO INTIMIDATE

Women Who Testified for the Commonwealth Being Made Victims for a Purpose.

ONE CASE AN ILLUSTRATION

Attorney John Marron evidently has the Allegheny police scared. This, at least, is the inference drawn by some around the North Side city hall after considering the action taken against Clara Livingston, whose house at 212 East Robinson street, was raided shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Since Miss Livingston testified for the commonwealth in the Allegheny graft cases she has been arrested more times than she can remember. Several days ago she paid a fine of $50 and costs after her house had been raided. One of her girls went to jail because she could not pay a fine of $25 and costs. Attorney Marron applied for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain the girl's release, but before the case was heard in court Magistrate Abernathey signed a release and the girl was taken from jail.

Policemen Capp and Davis went to the Livingston house early yesterday morning and arrested the Livingston woman, three girls and eight men. All were discharged at the hearing yesterday morning before Magistrate Abernathey. This is the first time such a thing ever happened and the action is given more prominence and significance because of the fact that another woman arrested for the same offense was fined, as were the inmates of her house.

Cut Down the Fine.

The first few times Clara Livingston was arrested she paid $100 and costs each time for keeping an immoral resort. Then, when publicity was given to the police practice of arresting women who were used by the commonwealth, the fine imposed was cut in half. Now it has come to pass that no fine is imposed, but the woman and those who live in her house are arrested early in the night and kept in the lockup until morning. In the meantime the house is closed.

This, of course, cuts off the revenue of what is the busiest night in such resorts. No fine is demanded, but the woman suffers a pecuniary loss, just the same. It is said to be part of the police plan of revenge on women who refused to protect the police officials in the graft trials. Scores of other houses within calling distance of the Livingston resort go unmolested week after week and month after month. Their owners are women who so far have not been summoned by the district attorney to give testimony concerning the relations existing between the police and the demi-monde of Allegheny. Dora Wallace, one of the girls taken in the raid of the house, gave valuable testimony in the graft hearings. She is said to be marked for persecution, too, as are all women who proved useful to the commonwealth.

Trying to Throw a Scare.

Over in Allegheny it is said that this continual persecution of women identified with the graft crusade in the role of witnesses for the district attorney is a scheme to "throw a scare" into all the women in the First and Fourth wards. The time is opportune, as the graft hearings are to be taken up next week. This present activity of the police among certain women is intended to have its effect, if the police plan carries. But it is said in the two wards that the women learned a lesson last fall and winter and have not the same fear of the police they used to have.

The house of Clara Johnston, 212 Craig street, was raided yesterday morning. The Johnston woman was fined $25 and costs, the two inmates $10 and costs each and the seven visitors were discharged.

BRINGS SUIT FOR $100,000.

Attorney T. A. Noble Claims This Amount Is Due Him for Selling Terminal Railroad to Wabash.

Thomas A Noble, a member of the Allegheny county bar, has brought action against Charles Donnelly and Frank F. Nicola for $100,000 for services due him, he says, for consummating the sale of the Pittsburgh Terminal and Railroad Company to George J. Gould and associates, comprising the Wabash railroad interests, or the Toledo syndicate.

Noble claims that in July, 1903, he entered into an agreement with the defendants whereby he agreed to sell the majority of the stock of the Terminal company, owned by the defendants and amounting to 79,238 shares, out of a total of 140,000 shares. It was agreed, the plaintiff states, that he should receive $100,000 as compensation for his work.

In the complaint he reviews the properties and indebtedness of the company and tells of opening negotiations with several prospective purchasers, among whom he names the New York Central, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Erie and Wabash railroad companies. He states that the Wabash interests were represented by a syndicate which had as managers George A Gould, Louis Fitzgerald and Joseph Ramsey, Jr. A meeting with Mr. Gould and his associates in November of 1903 is mentioned and the plaintiff tells of a subsequent interview with Mr. Gould in New York in December, 1903. He tells of many other subsequent meetings in the interests of the sale, and declares that on September 9, 1904, the defendants agreed upon terms of the sale, which was consummated on October 1, 1904.

Bids Congregation Farewell.

AWAKES THE POLICE COURT ECHOES WITH HIS PRAYERS

Robinson's Supplications Arise When Judge Says "$500 Bail"—Aged Colored Woman Catches Fever and Advises Him to "Shout On."

In No. 3 police station yesterday morning William Robinson, a negro, was held for court in $500 bail on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. From his most intimate friends Robinson had always kept hidden the fact that the spirit of religion was dominant in his makeup. The secret came out after the magistrate had disposed of his case. "Five hundred dollahs bail, jedge," cried Robinson in despair, and he sank on his knees and began to pray. The magistrate and police were remembered in his prayers. The turnkey started back toward the cell rooms with the helpless, praying Robinson dangling in the rear.

So much religious fervor in the prison department of No. 3 was entirely unheard of. Other prisoners sleeping off their Saturday night's revelry heard but approved not. Robinson's appeal for mercy was answered with shouts of derision by all save one, a colored woman who in her younger days had been prominent at negro bush meetings and had led the shouting at more than one revival in her own A. M. E. Zion church. "De young man am filled wif he spirit, and I wants to go an' help him through the tryin' period," she said to the turnkey. "You go out 'there and try and help yourself through with the magistrate," replied the heartless turnkey. "Shout on, boy," she cried. "Keep a-pushin' on to de silbery linin'," and she passed out to line up in front of the bar of justice.

In the meantime the patrol wagon wheeled up in front of the door, and Robinson, still praying, was bundled in. The last thing the sergeant at No. 3 heard was Robinson's voice raised in loud supplication, and he was still "pushin' on to de silbery linin'" when the jail was reached.

STEAM PIPE EXPLODES AND INJURES TWO MEN

Rankin Homes Are Shaken by Concussion, While Braddock Also Feels the Shock.

Two men were severely injured by the explosion of a steam pipe in the Rankin plant of the Philadelphia Company shortly after 5 o'clock last evening. The force of the explosion was sufficient to rattle all of the windows and shake many of the homes in Rankin. The reverberations were heard as far away as Braddock.

Great excitement prevailed in the town immediately following the explosion. A report became current that several men had been killed and friends of men who work in the plant were among the scores who hurried to the scene.

The explosion was caused by the bursting of an elbow. The steam from the main line had been partly turned off but a minute before.

John Cook, an Italian, employed as an oiler, and Edward Conway, an assistant engineer, were working directly under the steam pipe. Cook was blown against the other engine and received a severe injury to his right knee. Conway was scalded about the face and chest by escaping steam.

The noise of the explosion was heard for squares and residents of the vicinity who were eating supper came rushing out to learn the cause. The continued noise of escaping steam caused many to believe that a very serious accident had occurred. Dr. J. C. Nicholls of Braddock dressed the injuries of Cook and Conway, after which they were taken home.

Are Released Without Hearing.

Two men arrested on Saturday night as suspicious persons were turned out and allowed to go without a hearing at Central station yesterday morning. They gave their names as E. H. Deal and C. E. Dempsey and were charged up to Detectives Lally and Left. The latter, however, had not been working for the past two days and Lally was not present to say why he arrested the men. Magistrate Kirby let them go. Mamie Smith of 193 Grant street was fined $100 and costs on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. J. H. Marvin, accused of being a peeper, was fined $5 and costs.

Educational Classes Open.

The educational classes in connection with the Carnegie club of Braddock will open tomorrow evening. The course includes arithmetic, mechanical drawing, German, French and English for foreign born. The instructors are J. E. Little, J. W. Forsythe, Carl Legner and Mrs. Carl Legner.

Raid a Bluff Street House.

Police raided 1 Bluff street and arrested Mrs. Maria Sloan and two men. The woman is charged with keeping a disorderly house. The men were released on forfeits of $15 each.

Monday, October 2, 1905.

There are a good many complaints about the operations of pickpockets in the city. It appears to be no use to complain, however. The man who does not desire to lose his purse can keep his pockets buttoned or leave his money in the bank. If he takes the risk of carrying it and it is stolen that is "one on him."

A Pittsburgh clergyman preached yesterday on the "Curse of Prosperity." A close examination proves, however, his discourse related to a curse accompanying prosperity. There are evils incident to prosperous conditions which are embraced by the evil-minded, but Democrats, only, find prosperity an evil in itself.

It is probable former Assistant Secretary of State Loomis will get the mission to Mexico. Ambassador Edwin H. Conger intends to retire and the post will be vacant. What more natural than that Loomis should have it. The president has confidence in him and there is nothing in his record to prevent. Mr. Loomis has experience and training.

By the terms of the constitution of Pennsylvania no man may vote who has not paid taxes within two years and at least 30 days before election. Those who have no tax receipt of last year must pay before the end of this week to qualify. The matter is worth looking after. There is a campaign now on and every citizen should vote in November. Now is the time to pay taxes.

One cannot be surprised at Candidate Berry's relief in parting from Homer Castle. Mr. Berry is angling for Democratic votes and is not likely to get them while his speaking partner declares from the rostrum he never "committed the crime of voting the Democratic ticket." No one has arisen to deny the characterization, but it cannot sound pleasant to the men who have been committing the "crime" annually.

There are some peculiarities about the British election laws that must strike the American politician as humorous. For example, a man who resides on the line between two districts has been registered in each and apparently can vote in both. This plan has some advantages, no doubt, but if the English political managers were as enterprising as their American cousins, district lines would be likely to become popular building lines. Two votes for one citizen is a privilege not to be overlooked.

An important reform has been ordered in the matter of payment of salaries in the executive departments at Washington. The controller of the treasury now requires every payroll to be certified and the prescribed form includes the assertion that service has been fully performed "prior to the actual signing hereof." This order has been reinforced by an order from Secretary Shaw that hereafter there shall be no advance payment of salaries in the treasury department. Whether these orders come as a result of the inquiries of the Keep commission or not they mark a timely reform.

Having busied itself for a couple of months manufacturing charges against the state treasury management, the Post now argues that where there are so many charges, some of them may be true. The chances are there is not an atom of truth in any of them. The Post concedes they have been made at random and without knowledge, that it has been volley firing in the hope of hitting something. This confession is not surprising since the Post did all it could to keep Berry's name off the Citizens fusion ticket in Allegheny county, because it knew no "honest Republicans" would vote in that column.

Some time ago The Gazette referred to the increasing prevalence of indecent theatrical posters, denouncing their lurid suggestiveness. The sentiments of this paper were indorsed by a number of contemporaries throughout the country. We do not know whether or not the New York board of aldermen saw the editorial in question, but it is some satisfaction that they have taken action in the matter, passing an ordinance restricting the flaunting of poster indecencies before the public. It is wise action, as it will prevent the pollution of many a young mind. Other cities might profit by the example of New York.

Same Old Story.

There is scant credit for the Pittsburgh police bureau in the facts of the gambling house raid on Saturday evening by the county detectives. It is averred previous complaint was made to Police Superintendent Wallace; that he promised to investigate the matter, that he later ordered the complainants out of his presence with a threat to lock them up if they did not cease "bothering" him. Then the complainants went to District Attorney Stewart; result: confiscation of an extensive gambling outfit and supplies for a flourishing speakeasy.

This same police superintendent is quoted by a householder, whose domicile had been robbed, as giving him the advice to lock his doors as a preventive of burglary. He did not threaten to "lock up" this complainant, merely advised him to lock himself up. Acting, presumably, on the principle the police are paid to protect those who protect themselves. If these charges be true they are ample to condemn the police administration of this city, as worse than useless, and they accord with the attitude and procedure in the case of assault upon a defenseless woman by an officer in uniform.

Fortunately for Pittsburgh there are some policemen on the force who strive to do their duty and who understand what their duties are without instructions from their official superiors. For this much the public is duly grateful. Highwaymen, thugs, burglars and gamblers will never be in complete possession of the city while these men are on the police force. At the same time this is not all the public has a right to expect. There is something more due. An efficient administration of the police bureau is not an impossibility, under a competent and zealous head. Supt. Wallace ought to give that kind of an administration or quit.

Why Not in Elk County?

During the past two weeks Homer Castle and William H. Berry have been holding a series of Prohibition meetings in Western Pennsylvania. They touched a good many counties where the Prohibition issue is more or less alive, but strangely omitted Elk county. Why? Elk county is probably the most closely debatable ground in the state of Pennsylvania, unless we include Clarion. Elk county is the home of the Hon. James Knox Polk Hall, chairman of the Democratic state committee and manager of Mr. Berry's campaign. The Hon. James Knox Polk Hall invented the Berry itinerary, including the Prohibition meetings. Why did he leave Elk county off the slate?

Throughout this vast commonwealth millions of intelligent people are asking: Why not Elk county? Why were the bark-peelers and tanners denied the Prohibition oratory of William H. Berry? Why was not the candidate of the Prohibition party exhibited in company of the Democratic state chairman in the classic precincts of St. Marys? Echo answers, why? There is no other answer. Thousands have cudgeled their brains for a reason and the question has reverberated in Catasaqua and Hokendaqua without solution. It would have been so easy for Mr. Hall to put Elk county on the schedule and he left it off. Well, it's not too late for the Hon. Jim to make amends.

Harrisburg Home Week.

Harrisburg will have an "old home week," this week. It is expected to be the event in history since John Harris settled on the banks of the Susquehanna. Harris will not be in attendance, except in the spirit, but there will be many other "dead ones" there if all the former temporary residents of the capital city turn out. Every man who attended during one session" is eligible, for the invitation is out for all who ever inhabited the place.

Seriously speaking the Harrisburg "home week" will be worth while. Harrisburg has become a great city. It is the state capital, but it is more. It is a manufacturing town. It has many thriving industries, good transportation facilities and is looking for more of everything. Harrisburg is a good entertainer, second only to Pittsburgh, and its guests of this week should have an all-around good time.

Progress in Electricity.

Twenty years ago the use of electricity for power and light was in its infancy. What a growth there has been in its use and application since then. The history of the progress of the electrical industry reads like a fairy story, and really outclasses the mystic wonders of Aladdin's famous lamp of fable. According to a recent bulletin of the census bureau, at the close of the fiscal year of 1902, there were 3,620 electric light and power stations in the United States, representing expenditures for construction and equipment amounting to $504,740,352.

The investment of this large amount of capital is only a quarter of the story. These same stations in 1902 gave employment to nearly 7,000 salaried men, who received a total of $5,663,580 annually. The wage workers employed, most of them street car conductors and motormen, numbered 23,336, who received the annual aggregate of $14,983,112 in wages. This is making blades of grass spring up where none grew before with marvelous rapidity. This was the record three years, and the application of electricity is nearer perfection than it was then, and is reaching into nearly every practical economy of this life. It still has more wonders to perform in the years to come. That they will be performed is as certain as American ingenuity lives, which never believes the end is reached when one great thing has been done.

Just One Genuine Ticket.

Now the tickets are all completed it must be evident to the good citizen there is just one worthy of his approval—the straight Republican ticket from top to bottom. There is not a candidate named on that ticket who is not worthy the confidence and support of the voter who desires good government.

There are tickets and tickets. There is the Democratic ticket with the name of just one Democrat, fairly nominated, who is qualified to do honor to the position to which he aspires—James B. Head, for superior court. Everybody knows how the Democratic county ticket was made up to placate selfish factions by a select committee.

There is the Citizens ticket, which embraces the Republican state candidates, as a matter of policy, and the county candidates who are on the Democratic ticket, chosen by devious processes, who are candidates for revenue only.

There is the Lincoln party ticket, manufactured by a bunch of disgruntled politicians responsible to nobody except the man who, in secret, pays the freight. It is neither Democrat nor Republican, but part of each, and the only excuse for putting it on the official ballot is to confuse the voter and add to the expenses of the election. It is operated in the interests of Democracy under false pretenses.

Again there is the straight Republican ticket with the name of John Stewart at the top and that of William H. Guy at the bottom, and with the names of good men and true in every space between. Every candidate whose name appears on it has been nominated by the orderly processes provided for the expression of the popular will, and every candidate on that ticket should be elected and we believe will be elected by overwhelming majorities.

Not a doubt is entertained of the success of the Republican state ticket by a normal "off year" plurality, or more. There is no doubt about the election of the Republican county ticket by larger majorities than those given District Attorney Stewart and Sheriff Dickson two years ago. These candidates are the choice of thousands of voters who registered their preferences at the primary polls, and they will be the choice of many thousands more at the polls in the general election. They owe their nominations to no factions, no selected committees and no instructed payroll delegates. They will go into office ready and free to serve the public. There is just one ticket that has come from the people, the Republican ticket; there are others that have been manufactured by committees appointed and self anointed.

SELFISHNESS IS THE GREATEST EVIL TODAY

Contentment Is Greatest of Virtues of Nations as Well As of Humanity.

By MAX NORDAU.

The human race is today more discontented, more irritated and more restless than ever before. The world of civilization is an immense hospital ward, the air is filled with groans and lamentations and every form of suffering is to be seen twisting and turning on the beds.

Go through the world and ask each country you come to: "Does contentment dwell here? Have you peace and happiness?" From each you will hear the same reply: "Pass on, we have not what you are seeking."

Pause and listen at the borders, and the breeze will bring to your ears from each one the same confused echoes of contention and tumult, of revolt and of oppression.

In Germany Socialism, with myriads of tiny teeth, is stealthily gnawing at the columns that uphold the structure of state and society, and nothing, not even the allurements of state and Christian socialism, nor the countless traps set for it by the laws and police, can disturb for a single instant the secret, noiseless, untiring work of this insatiable subterranean destroyer.

The anti-Semitic movement has merely been a pretext for the gratification of passions which do not venture to show themselves under their true names—among the poor and ignorant it cloaked their hatred of property owners, among those who enjoy privileges inherited from mediaeval times it disguised their jealous fear of gifted rivals in the race for influence and power, and the romantic idealizing youth saw in it a means of satisfying a certain extravagant and false ideal of patriotism that longs not only for the political unity of Germany, but also for an ethnological unity of the German people.

In Austria and Russia.

In Austria we see ten nationalities arrayed against each other, each seeking to injure the others by all the means at its command.

In Russia there is now, after the war, such a condition that it may almost be described as primitive barbarism. In England and America the ground appears solid and the structure of state firm, but only to the superficial observer. If he lay his ear to the ground and listen to the muffled strokes of the subterranean giants as they hammer away at the weak points in their dungeons, and if he examine the walls closer, he will see that underneath the varnish and gold plating dangerous cracks extend from top to bottom. The church and the aristocracy of rank and wealth are well organized and firmly allied to uphold each other, with a true appreciation of the identity of their interests.

The middle classes bow submissively to the written and unwritten laws of the dominant caste, are outwardly eminently respectful, show reverence to titles and swear that those things only are seemly which the upper ten thousand approve, everything else being low and vulgar. But the workingman and the small tenant stand outside the bonds of this conspiracy; they demand their share of capital and land; they form clubs of freethinkers and republicans; they shake their fists at royalty and aristocracy.

We seek in vain among the rich a feeling of security with regard to their wealth and of the simply enjoyment of it; neither do we find among the poor that simple acquiescence in the poverty which appears so inevitable and unchangeable to human eyes.

Moved by Fear and Envy.

An undefined fear of danger haunts the man of wealth. He sees a menace in the present conditions of men and affairs, indistinct but none the less real, so that he has come to look upon his possessions as a mere loan that might be demanded from him roughly from one moment to another.

The poor man is consumed by envy and greed for the wealth of the privileged few, neither in himself nor in the existing arrangement of world and society, as he has learned to understand, does he discover any convincing reasons for the fact that he is poor and hence excluded from the table of life's pleasures. He listens with fierce impatience to a voice within him which whispers that his rights to the blessings of life are as good as any man's.

The rich man is dreading, the poor man is hoping and working to bring about a change in the present condition of property ownership. The faith in a continuance of its present state has been rudely shaken in the minds of all, even in those who will not acknowledge their secret doubts and anxieties.

At the root of all these evils lies the one great vice—selfishness. Selfishness arouses the desire to govern others, it leads to despotism, it produces kings, emperors, ambitious ministers and party leaders.

On the other side the love of our kind arouses the desire to serve the race, it leads to self-government, universal suffrage, it produces a legislation inspired alone by the desire to further the welfare of the commonwealth.

Selfishness is the cause of the most heinous injustices in the distribution of property; a solidarity would equaline these injustices to such a degree that an education and daily bread would be assured to every one capable of cultivation and willing to work.

The struggle for existence will last as long life itself and be always the cause of all development and perfection, but it will assume milder phases and be in the same proportion to its fierce warfare of today as a war carried on between civilized nations is to a slaughter among cannibals.

MAN OF THE VEST IS MAN OF THE HOUR

Odell Urges Timothy L. Woodruff to Accept the New York Mayoralty Nomination.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The one object that is bothering a great many people in New York these days is who is to be the Republican nominee for the mayoralty. Not that it will make a great deal of difference in the final result—though one man may poll a few more votes than another would—but it is likely to have some effect on the next state convention when a governor is to be chosen. Senator Platt denies very strenuously that he is a dead one politically, and he is likely to make it very warm for State Chairman Odell when the time comes, and therefore it behooves Mr. Odell to get together with himself and several others in building up a machine that will be more formidable than the one he has at present. Senator Platt is very popular with the Republicans of the state, and he could go into the field right now and make Mr. Odell exert himself. What may happen at the next state convention is therefore very interesting to think about.

That is the reason the talk of nominating Timothy L. Woodruff for the mayoralty of Greater New York is important. Mr. Woodruff would stand no chance of election this year, but his popularity would bring him a bigger vote, probably, than any other man who might be named. He is a good organizer, a good campaigner and a good mixer, and moreover, he is very popular. All these things would tend to cut down the vote of Mayor McClellan, and would show what a hold the lieutenant governor has on the voters of this section of the state. And there can be no doubt on this question. "Tim" is always sure of "a hand" whenever he appears on the floor of a convention, and it is not machine-made applause, either.

The Astute Mr. Odell.

No one recognizes these facts more than Mr. Odell. He is therefore urging Mr. Woodruff to make the race for the mayoralty on the straight Republican ticket. Mr. Woodruff is not anxious for the sacrifice, but it is reported that Odell has promised him the Republican nomination for governor if he will do him this one favor. This looks mighty good to the gentleman of the vest. It has long been his ambition, and he would do anything within reason to attain it. He has gone into several gubernatorial conventions with a goodly number of votes, but not enough. He could carry the same votes along with him another time, and with Odell's support he would be almost certain to win.

Would Bump the Easy Boss.

Such an alliance would prove a hard bump for Senator Platt. At the late state convention, Mr. Platt supported Woodruff for the governatorial nomination, but he was outvoted by a large plurality. Since then, however, the relations between the senator and the former lieutenant governor have not been quite so cordial, and it would not be a very far jump that would land "Tim" in the Odell camp. That is what the wise ones in politics are expecting, and it would be no surprise should Woodruff decide that the mayoralty nomination was just the proper stepping stone that would lead him to the center of the state at Albany. If he is nominated for mayor and makes a good showing, the rest of the program would seem perfectly logical.

The Ways of Wall Street.

The "clever" theft of securities to the value of $565,000 from the National City bank—the Standard Oil bank, by the way—does not appear so clever when one understands how carelessly big checks and bags of securities are carried around in that section of the city; then it becomes only a nervy piece of work. Boys still in their teens are sent hither and thither with bits of paper representing fortunes without the thought that they will ever prove dishonest and run away with the goods. Then the very bigness of the checks makes it unlikely that any one can be found who will exchange real money for them. These things happen every hour of the business day, and no one has yet developed a scheme that will be better or safer. The financiers say it would be useless to send high-salaried men on these errands, as they are no more likely to prove honest than the boys. The employer scarcely ever sees these young men after the day he has looked them over, decided they would do, and hired them. He is a pretty good judge of human nature, and feels certain that his decision is correct.

Big Losses Occur Daily.

Hardly a day passes but that one of these boys loses his securities or comes back with the wrong envelope. Then comes the job of tracing them, which requires days, weeks, and even months. Not often are the losses permanent, but a great deal of annoyance and sometimes small losses in margins occur because the securities are not at hand for immediate delivery. Boys with fortunes tucked away in their inside pockets and just like other boys; they will stop to watch every crowd, or join in a raid on a push cart man without a thought of the chance of causing their employers heavy losses by their antics. But on the whole, the boys employed in the street are trustworthy and reasonably careful, as boys go, and certainly the street could not get along without them.

One Boy Who Was Too Bright.

These boys who are growing up in Wall street grow a great deal more rapidly in some ways than do the boys in other sections of the city. Only the brightest of them have a chance to go through the mill, and they develop rapidly in the hurley-burley of the short business day. Once in awhile one of them develops too rapidly, as was the case with one a short time ago. He was employed in a broker's office, and he had scarcely been there three months when the cashier of the establishment discovered that the lad could forge his signature so thoroughly that it would pass even himself if he were not on his guard. The boy only used his accomplishment for joking purposes, but there was too much of a chance of the joke developing into a serious matter, and he was sent to seek other employment for his talent.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

Gossipy Chat and Anecdote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

The following is a story told of one of the former governors of Georgia:

He was out walking one morning a few days prior to his election, when he met an old negro. The following conversation took place:

"Morning, Marse John."

"Good morning, uncle."

"You all is looking mighty fine."

"Yes, I feel pretty good."

"Do you know what you look like, Marse John?"

"No. What do I look like?"

"You look as if you had a dollah in yoah pocket and was runnin' for governor."—Philadelphia Ledger.

He Wouldn't Be Plucked.

Representative Smith of Pennsylvania was recently in one of the departments at Washington "looking after" one of his constituents. "I wrote you a letter," said the representative, "and I am reminded of what happened in my state about a letter of introduction.

"A rich old farmer who lives near Philadelphia got tangled up in a money matter with one of his neighbors. Mr. Alston, for that was his name, sought an attorney, who gave him a letter of introduction to a brother lawyer in Philadelphia, at which place it was necessary to enter suit. The letter was delivered to the lawyer, and while he was reading it he was called out of the room, leaving the letter on his desk. Mr. Alston let curiosity get the best of him and picked up the letter and read it. The letter closed with, 'Mr. Alston is a fat goose; pluck him heavy.'

"That was enough for the rich old farmer, and, seizing a pen, he wrote:

"'P. S.—The goose has flown; feathers and all.'

"It took him about three seconds to amble down the stairs and into the streets, and he has not had anything to do with lawyers from that day to this, preferring to pluck his own geese."—Philadelphia Record.

Badge of Profession.

The following story, as told by a friend of F. Hopkinson Smith, has been going the rounds concerning his earlier days:

"Occasionally he used to come to the restaurant where we ate our carefully calculated dinners—a figure tall, immaculately dressed, and with a fine air. We had long admired him from a distance, wondered who he was, and why a man of such obvious importance should dine in so modest a place.

"One day after a week's absence he came in and sat down at the table opposite with so grand a manner that our curiosity overcame our courtesy.

"With a subtle gesture we called Sadie, the waitress.

"'Why,' said she, 'his name is Smith.'

"'Well,' we insisted, 'what does he do for a living?'

"'I'm not sure,' she replied, 'but I think he is a writer fellow. Anyway, he never seems to have much money.'"—New York Times.

A Painful Situation.

Richard Golden, star of "The Bad Samaritan," says that he once traveled with a company whose property man was a Scotchman with a weakness to indulge in liquor occasionally, notwithstanding a sincere devotion to religious principles and a compliance, however perfunctory, with his ideas of worship and reverence. On one occasion he arrived at home very late, undressed with considerable difficulty, and knelt down beside his bed, muttering incoherently.

"What's the matter, John?" asked his wife. "Are ye no' feelin' well?"

"Am feelin' a' right," said John, "but a' canna mind a danged wird o' me prayers."—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

Only Skin Deep.

The politeness of children is only skin deep. One cannot help sympathizing with the little London girl who said sleepily to her hostess at a party she had just been old enough to enjoy, "Please, will you tell me which is the lady what's giving this party, 'cause I promised mummy to say, 'Good-bye, thank you very much for the nice party,' and I can't go home till I've said it; and—and I do so want to get away from this horrible place!" But one's whole heart goes out to the little boy who, having greatly enjoyed one small fastidient chocolate, was asked sharply, "Well, Johnny, what do you say?" "More," answered Johnny.—New York Tribune.

No News in Birdville.

When Mr. Read was a newspaper reporter he covered Birdville, Ark., for his paper by interviewing citizens from that village and its vicinity. One day he met old Bill Simmons, who resided near Birdville, and asked him if there was any news in the neighborhood.

"Nope," replied Bill, "everything quiet as death."

"No weddings or anything of a social sort?" asked Opie.

"Wall, no," said Bill, "'cept would 'a' be'n a marryin' over at Sim Smith's las' night, ceptin thet Si Jones wuz plumb gone on Sim's darter, which Hank Thompson wuz ter marry, an' jess afore the hitchin'-up wuz ter take place Hank met up with Si on the Yellville turnpike an' shot his right arm off, an' then Si tuck his gun in his left hand an' dropped Hank ter the ground, an' jess then old man Thompson, Hank's paw, come up an' plunked three bullets inter Si, an' Si's stepuncle, Jim Rivers, come a-lopin' down the crick bottom an' shot old man Thompson's head orf his shoulders afore he could say Jack Robinson. 'Course thet spiled the weddin' plans, an' so I hain't got no nooze fer yer ter day."

"Wait a minute, Mr. Simmons," urged Opie, who wanted to get the story in detail.

"I can't wait," replied the man from Birdville, where it was quiet as death. "I got ter go over to the undertaker's shop an' order three coffins right ort. I'll let ye know when the's any nooze down Birdville way."—Portland Oregonian.

Incontestable Arguments.

As an argument for river improvement it is stated that the annual tonnage of Pittsburgh exceeds that of New York, Liverpool, Hamburg and Antwerp combined. The increasing demand for coal and iron is in itself reason enough for the deepening of waterways.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

They are calling Castro "the Diaz of Venezuela." The president of Mexico ought to be able to recover damages for that.—Cleveland Leader.

THE LAND OF "PRETTY SOON."

I know of a land where the streets are paved
With the things we meant to achieve.
It is walled with the money we meant to have saved
And the pleasures for which we grieve.

The kind words spoken, the promises broken,
And many a coveted boon
Are stowed away there in that land somewhere—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

There are uncut jewels of possible fame
Lying about in the dust,
And many a noble and lofty aim
Covered with mold and rust.

And, oh, this place, while it seems so near,
Is farther away than the moon;
Though our purpose is fair, yet we never get there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

It is further at noon than it is at dawn,
Farther at night than at noon;
Oh, let us beware of that land down there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

Interesting Happenings About the People Who Are Traveling.

Secretary of War Taft and his party, who are returning from a tour of the far east, are scheduled to pass through Pittsburgh at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The special in which the secretary and party are traveling from San Francisco is said to be the finest which ever made the trip across the country. Railroad officials are watching the progress of the special, as they have planned to make the run from San Francisco to the capital, which is 3,300 miles, in three and one-half days. The run to Washington will take less than eight hours. Secretary Taft and the members of his party will have little opportunity to see the busy portions of Pittsburgh, as it is not likely the special will be run into the Water street station. In order to save a half hour the engine and crews will be changed at Laughlin Junction. This will require but a few minutes, and the train will be on its way to its final destination a few minutes after it arrives over the Pittsburgh Junction railroad. The run from San Francisco was made over the Southern Pacific to Ogden, thence over the Union Pacific to Omaha, and into Chicago over the Chicago & Northwestern. At Chicago the Baltimore & Ohio officials took charge of the special for the run to Washington.

Germany Sends Representative.

The German government has sent an expert out from that country to study health conditions in New Orleans. The representative of Germany, Johann Reichenbecher, passed through Pittsburgh, going west on the St. Louis limited last night. Prof. Reichenbecher, while waiting for the train to be made up at Union station, was a keen observer of the Sunday night crowd of passengers and the quick make-up and movement of the trains. He stated that when he left Germany the cholera had just broken out and measures were being taken to fight the spread of the disease. In Germany, he said, they have a winged insect of the mosquito family which is believed to be responsible for some diseases in that country. He expects to remain in this country for about six months.

President Ramsey Goes Through.

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president of the Wabash railroad, passed through Pittsburgh last evening on his way to New York. Mr. Ramsey was only at Union station for a few minutes, as he took the 7:15 o'clock train west shortly after he arrived here from St. Louis. It was not known that Mr. Ramsey was going east and few people at the station knew he had been there till after he had departed. It is believed Mr. Ramsey is going to New York to look after the permits which are being received at the Holland house. The meeting at which the big fight for control of the Wabash will be made takes place at Toledo on October 16.

Excursionists Crowd Trains.

Union station was crowded all last night with excursionists from towns within 50 miles of Pittsburgh. The people came to Pittsburgh on the two-day excursion run by the railroad at the close of last week. The excursion tickets were valid till last night, and many people who came in the city to attend the exposition remained over till the last trains were ready to pull out. It is estimated that several thousand people took advantage of the low rates given by the railroad.

Officer Makes Lucky Find.

More fortunate than many others who come to Pittsburgh to find work was a pretty little girl who was attracted to this city by the stories told by people who carry the fame of Pittsburgh wherever they go. The girl found a friend almost as soon as she arrived in the station, and she is now glad she came here, because she has found a good home. Lavina Smith, aged 14, on arriving at Union station, surveyed the big crowd waiting for trains and then asked Special Officer Harry Cooper if he knew where she could find a place to stay all night. The officer quickly learned from the girl that both her parents are dead and that she had been working for a family in Altoona. The family a few days ago told her they didn't need her services any longer and the girl was practically without friends and out in the streets. Officer Cooper has been searching for a small girl to assist his family at home, and as the girl was too pretty to be roaming abroad in the city without a friend he placed her in charge of the matron at the station and took her home with him when he was relieved from duty. After Cooper had congratulated himself on finding the girl he walked down through the station, picked up a dime and remarked: "Look seems to be with me tonight."

FATAL WRECK ON THE SOO SYSTEM

One Passenger Is Killed Outright and Three of Injured May Die.

PULLMAN CARS IN A DITCH

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PAUL, MINN., Oct. 1.—A Soo line passenger train from the east leaving the Union passenger station this morning collided with a Chicago Great Western fast stock train at the Fourth street viaduct. The force of the collision sent five of the passenger cars down a 27 foot embankment.

Mrs. C. M. Croff was killed and five were seriously injured, while a score or more were less seriously hurt. That no more were killed or injured is due to the fact the train was nearly empty, having discharged the greater number of its passengers at the Union depot here.

The seriously injured are: Mrs. Dutch, Minneapolis; Mrs. Thompson, H. S. Moore, Montreal; Mrs. Wilkinson, Minneapolis, and Mr. Martin, Minneapolis. The slightly injured: Hall Wilkinson, Minneapolis; Mr. Wilkinson, Minneapolis; Frank Martin, Brookline, N. H.; Cyrus Burgland, New York city; C. J. Keenan, New York city; Miss Crughlin, New York, and William M. Hall, Minneapolis.

Of the injured there are six men and two women at St. Joseph's hospital. Of these it is feared two or three may die. Mr. Martin, who has a fracttired skull, is in a critical condition. About 20 injured were treated at the Union depot by surgeons.

The direct cause of the accident was the failure of airbrakes on the stock train to work. Coming along at good speed, it struck the passenger train about in the middle, hurling the Pullman coaches over the embankment. They landed upside down in a ditch 25 feet below. The wreckage caught fire, but it was promptly extinguished by the St. Paul fire department.

PREACHES LAST SERMON AFTER 44 YEARS' SERVICE

The Rev. Dr. William P. Turner of Braddock Gives Up His Charge Because of Failing Eyesight.

The Rev. William Pitt Turner, D. D., one of the veteran ministers of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, yesterday morning preached his farewell sermon as pastor of the First church, Braddock. The church was filled to overflowing. Dr. Turner preached on "Closing of the Year Thoughts." He thanked the members of the congregation for their patience during the past year with the service he was able to render on account of his failing eyesight. He will retire from the ministry, and on Wednesday, when the Pittsburgh conference meets at Beaver, will ask to be placed on the superannuated list.

He has been in the ministry for 44 years and has filled many important pastorates. He was received on trial in the conference in 1861. Two years later he was sent to Braddock, where he remained for three years. Thirty-nine years afterward, when his term as presiding elder of the Blairsville district expired, he was again sent to Braddock and he has just completed the third year of his pastorate there. When he went to Braddock the membership of the church was 550 and it is now 726.

When a boy he received an injury which robbed him of the sight of one eye and last spring he began to lose the sight of his remaining eye. He was operated on, but little benefit resulted. He expects to spend a year in rest and travel and he will live in Wilkinsburg.

EXPECT HALF MILLION AT THE BIG POINT SHOW

Attendance This Season at the Exposition Is Very Flattering—Winner of Gold Watch.

Based upon the attendance so far this season, of which but three weeks remain, the Western Pennsylvania Exposition society expects that over 500,000 persons will have passed through the turnstiles before the big show closes—October 21.

Miss Frazier of 29 Westwood street, Youngstown, O., won the gold watch, for which every lady visitor to the Exposition on Saturday was given a ticket. The lucky number was 462.

Creatore begins the second week of his engagement this afternoon. He has been filling the auditorium at every concert of his present engagement, and while, perhaps, he is a little more subdued and not quite so acrobatic, there seems to have been a wonderful improvement over his masterly leading, until he now ranks as a foremost leader in the most difficult music. For the last week of Creatore's engagement some amazing programs are on for the afternoons and evenings. For this afternoon the program is of rather varied range and will include Creatore's march, "American Navy;" Verdi's "Aida," Engelmann's march, "Diamond Medal;" Grieg's intermezzo, "Pascalle," and Verdi's prelude from "La Traviata." The programs for the afternoon follow in full:

2 P. M.

March, "American Navy".....Creatore
Overture, "La Schiava Saracena"...Marcadante
Intermezzo, "Morabia".....Rosales
Polka, "Mezzanotte".....Waldteufel

POPULAR ELECTION A FARCE IN CUBA

Gen. Gomez May Make Serious Allegations to President Roosevelt.

IS HE SEEKING INTERVENTION?

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 1.

Mr. Quesada, Cuban minister to the United States, this afternoon said he could not believe that Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, who sailed yesterday from Havana for New York, was on his way to this country to lay before President Roosevelt serious allegations against the government of Cuba, bearing on the recent elections, and to ask the intervention of the United States. Gen. Gomez, who has withdrawn as a candidate for the presidency against President Palma, asserts that the Cuban government by the use of force has made popular elections a farce in Cuba.

"There, of course, was considerable excitement in Cuba over these elections," Minister Quesada said. "Gen Emile Nunez, governor of Havana, was a candidate in the convention against Gen. Gomez. He was defeated and is now supporting the candidacy of President Palma. Gen. Gomez was made a candidate for president by the Radical Liberal party.

"Just preceding the preliminary elections the government obtained information that members of the other party planned a revolution in case it was defeated. Dynamite was discovered at Tunas de Zaza, Santa Clara province. It is contended by Gen. Gomez's followers that this dynamite was brought in years ago in the last revolution. But this is not so, as the bombs show them to be of recent make.

"Information also was obtained that ammunition was stored in Cienfuegos in a hotel occupied by Mr. Villuendas, leader of the Radical party. The court ordered the police to make a search. The chief of police discovered the bombs and was dictating a statement on the premises when he was shot in the back and fell mortally wounded. I have since been informed that not a chamber of his revolver was discharged, so he could not have been the aggressor. In a melee that followed Mr. Villuendas was killed and several other men were wounded."

Two packs of bloodhounds are on the ground and the general opinion is that the negro will meet death at the stake before daylight Monday.

REGISTRATION LAW JOKE IN ENGLAND

Greatest Poet Disfranchised and a Lunatic Is Granted a Vote.

HOW POVERTY IS PENALIZED

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Some of the absurdities and inconsistencies of the British registration laws, by which the right of citizens to vote are determined, have been strikingly shown this week by the decisions reached in several cases that have come before the revision courts. How entirely they ignore all considerations of intellectual fitness has been revealed in the disfranchisement of Algernon Charles Swinburne, the famous poet, on a technicality. Mr. Swinburne has for some 30 years lived in a house at Putney with his friend, Mr. Watts-Dunton. The evidence submitted showed that he pays half of the rent and half of the household expenses. But Mr. Watts-Dunton's name alone appears in the agreement between landlord and tenant. On that ground the revising barrister held that he could recognize only the legal tenant and Mr. Swinburne, therefore, was not entitled to a vote. The greatest literary figure in England is thus classified with paupers and deprived of the rights of a British subject.

As though to make clear the paradoxical character of the registration laws and the depths of assinine folly which they sanction at Galgate, a few days later, the legal solon there presiding sagely and solemnly granted a vote to a lunatic on the ground that a private paying lunatic "must be considered as a person able to return to his occupation at will." Thus, while the greatest poet of the English-speaking world is deprived of his vote, the lunatic is not only allowed to vote, but has it thrust upon him by that whimsical harlequin, the law.

Sleeps in Two Boroughs.

Wandsworth furnished another exhibition of comical legal fatuity. A man burdened with the queer patronymic of Halfpenny occupies a house, half of which is in the borough of Wandsworth and the other half in the adjoining borough of Battersea. When he retires to his couch for the night his head is in Wandsworth and his legs in Battersea. He had already been granted a vote in Battersea, but not satisfied with that he claimed also a vote in Wandsworth. The official to whose discriminating judgment the matter had been referred held that it had been an error to enfranchise his legs, but that decision having been recorded it would have to stand. Such a blunder, however, he gravely declared, would not justify him in disfranchising Mr. Halfpenny's head. And so he receives two votes as though he held two freeholds in separate constituencies.

At Clapton the right to a vote of the notorious Smyth-Piggott, the self-styled Messiah, was contested on the ground that he no longer occupied the house there which is leased in his name, having transferred his residence to the iniquitous "Abode of Love" in Somersetshire. But as he was still responsible for the rent of the Clapton domicile the revising barrister ruled that he was entitled to a vote in respect to it.

Pauper Line Tightly Drawn.

At Fibongeley, five aged Wesleyan ministers occupying cottages belonging to some beneficent trust, and for which they paid only a nominal rent of a penny a week, were disfranchised on the ground that the cottages were practically almshouses and their occupants were in the same category as paupers. At Kensington several workingmen were deprived of their votes because during the hard times of last winter they had been employed on relief work. Under English law recipients of outdoor relief, without discrimination, are disfranchised. It is a penalty for poverty which many workingmen bitterly resent.

When a Liberal government comes into power it is expected that it will do something to simplify the ridiculous British registration laws and sweep away the cobwebs spun by legal spiders across the doors of the polling booths. And some day probably the system will be further simplified by the adoption of a system of manhood suffrage without regard to property qualifications.

KING PRAISES PITTSBURGHERS

Ruler of Belgium Lauds Chamber of Commerce for Effort at International Congress.

GEO. H. ANDERSON RETURNS

Pittsburgh has again been honored abroad. George H. Anderson, secretary of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, returned home yesterday from the International Congress of Commercial, Industrial and Financial Organizations, which was held in Liege, Belgium, on September 6, 7, 8 and 9. He tells of special honor paid the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, not only by the congress, but by King Leopold himself. Speaking of his mission, Mr. Anderson said:

The Pittsburgh chamber of commerce was in receipt of special and unstinted praise because of its preparation of papers on subjects of international interest and import. Of all the representatives from many lands few came prepared with propositions of world-wide interest which were worked out and ready for consideration.

Three subjects were presented by me on behalf of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce which attracted marked consideration and liberal complimentary comment. These were the proposition for the establishment of an international tribunal of arbitration for the settlement of questions of all kinds which arise between nations; a proposition for the establishment of a free zone on the seas for merchant marine, wherein ships may be exempt from examination and seizure; and a proposition for the establishment of a uniform standard of money values between nations.

The latter paper, which was prepared by Dr. William J. Holland, was most complete and received special consideration and high praise. While this proposition had been advanced very often in previous years, it had never before been presented in worked-out form.

These papers, when read, were committed to an examining committee, who reported very favorably upon them and offered them for discussion. The delegates complimented the propositions highly and the convention ordered them translated into the various tongues. I had with me 150 copies of Dr. Holland's paper, and these were soon exhausted, while I was appealed to for 1,000 more.

Following the convention, King Leopold tendered a reception to the delegates in the palace in Brussels, and it was my privilege to receive an official invitation from the king. I was honored with opportunity to converse with him a short time and he paid high compliment to America and to the enterprise of the organization which it was my privilege to represent.

ENLISTED MEN IN THE ARMY HAVE MILLIONS ON DEPOSIT

Paymaster General's Report Says the Military Deposit System Is a Success—Recommends Increased Pay to Insure Better Class.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The report of Francis A. S. Dodge, the paymaster-general of the army, for the past fiscal year, points out that the enlisted men have now every chance to put away money for their own savings by the deposit system which guarantees them absolute safety. During the year the amount deposited by the men was $1,521,020, making the total amount since the establishment of the system $26,294,326.

Gen. Dodge states that the present law against permanent appointments in the staff corps and departments will result in course of time in all the grades in the pay department being filled by officers detailed from the line. He recommends that the law be amended so as to limit details to vacancies occurring in the grade of captain for which captains of the line should be selected as now, and that all grades above captain should be made permanent appointments.

The amount expended on account of the pay of the army during the year was $31,361,182. The last complete pay schedule for the army was passed by congress 35 years ago and the report contends that it is not sufficient for the demands of our times. The fact that the army is underpaid, the report adds, makes it impossible to recruit out of such classes as might be wished. That economy has been the watchword for the army for the last 20 years, Gen. Dodge says, is shown by the fact that whereas the cost per capita for officers and men in 1870 was $992, it was during this year $987.

The new month gives fresh impetus to the merchandising.
This store wants to increase its business.
Wants you to join its great and growing clientele.
We promise you more of everything that buyers want than any other store attempts to give.
We won't palaver over you, but we'll give you the goods—the style, the quality, at a price that gives you a definite, tangible advantage.

cause and effect

During the month of September the Ladies' Suit Section sold 50 per cent more Suits than September of last year.

One and a half times as many Suits in the same space of time—why?

Only one reason why—we have what women want—variety, styles, quality—and sell at a fair price.

Will you come and see if we haven't a better Suit for you at your price than any you've yet seen?

We'll prove why—to you personally and individually.

We want the October business to do as well, and will make it to your interest to give the store your preference.

Ladies' Coat Suits, $13.50 to $125.00
—Coats of many models—all lengths from Eton to 55 inches.

We ask particular attention to the tone of the Coat Suits we offer at $25.00 and $35.00.

broadcloths

Fashion says this is the material for Autumn, 1905.

Let us show you how well and faithfully we've anticipated your requirements.

Seven distinctly different lines of Broadcloths, each in a choice line of Colors and Black, 75c to $3.00 a yard.

It sounds unreasonable to say we're selling Broadcloth, 52 inches wide, in the new fashionable shades, at 75c, that is being sold elsewhere for $1.25, but it has been conclusively demonstrated.

Our Broadcloth at $1.25 is an exceptionally smooth finished fabric that won't rough or scuff or get woolly.
—all shades and Black.

Imported light weight Broadcloth that will retain its lustre after sponging—twenty requisite shades, $1.50.

Kid finish Broadcloth that no store sells under Two-fifty—$2.00 here.

Of course any store may make statements like this, but you know very well this store proves what it advertises.

Genuine Chiffon Broadcloth, 56 inches wide, $2.50.

Irresponsible people call most any Broadcloth Chiffon, but this is the fabric from which the name was derived, and when you see it you can tell the difference.

The mere question of shade alone should bring you here for Broadcloths—the variety of tones and tints is most praiseworthy.

MISS ROOSEVELT REALLY DIVED

New York Organist Confirms the Report of Her "Dare" on Shipboard.

WAS GIVEN TO A SENATOR

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.

Miss Alice Roosevelt's dive, without discarding her apparel, in the swimming tank of the steamship Manchuria, while the Taft party was on the way from Nagasaki to Manila, was the result of a "dare" she offered to a senator, according to Prof. William C. Carl, organist of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Prof. Carl arrived from a three-months' trip to the Orient this morning. He was with the Taft party in Japan and the Philippines.

Representative Longworth, Prof. Carl says, was already in the bathing costume when Miss Roosevelt, arrayed in white, came on deck. Mr. Longworth made a remark about the salubrious character of the water, when Miss Roosevelt turned to the senator, whose name Prof. Carl will not mention, and dared him to jump in.

Without waiting for the senator to take the "dare," Miss Roosevelt dived into the tank. Tossing off his coat the senator leaped after her.

Prof. Carl says he arrived on deck while Miss Roosevelt was still in the water, and the affair was taken by the whole company as an original and pleasant joke on the senator.

Miss Roosevelt's engagement to Mr. Longworth, Prof. Carl said, seemed to be taken as an accepted fact among the Taft party. Miss Roosevelt was addressed by the foreigners wherever she was entertained as "Princess Alice."

Prof. Carl also described the predicament of most of the men in the Taft party on their arrival in Japan when they learned that upon their attendance at any social function, etiquette required the wearing of frock coats and top hats, none of which they had. Tailors and hatters in Tokyo did a rushing business, and as Japanese tailors and hatters have queer ideas of American styles, most of the male members of the Taft party presented a picturesque appearance.

RUSSIA'S FOREMOST HERO TO BE BURIED WITH POMP

The Body of Gen. Kondratenko Reaches Odessa from Port Arthur and Is Given a Demonstration.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ODESSA, Oct. 1.—The body of Maj.-Gen. Kondratenko, commander of the Seventh East Siberian rifles, who was killed December last during the siege of Port Arthur, and who is honored throughout Russia as the foremost hero of the war, arrived here today on a steamer from Port Arthur. The body was received with a great civic and military demonstration, in strong contrast with the indifference displayed on the arrival of Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel. Deputations brought wreaths from many cities and from the Russian army in Manchuria.

A special train tomorrow will convey the body in state to St. Petersburg where, in the presence of Emperor Nicholas, it will be interred in the Alexander Nevsky monastery, the resting place of the empire's most celebrated men, including Russia's militant saint and national hero, Alexander Nevsky, prince of Novogorod, grand duke of Vladimir and patron of St. Petersburg; Count Alexander Suvaroff, the celebrated Russian field marshal, and of the composers, Peter Ilitch Tschaikowsky, Anton Rubinstein and Mikhail Ivanovitch Glinka.

Five hundred Russians from Port Arthur arrived on the same steamer, which also brought the body of Paul Lessar, who died while minister at Pekin.

DINED AT WHITE HOUSE.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt Have the French Ambassador and Wife for Their Guests.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt tonight had as guests at dinner Ambassador Jusserand of France and Madame Jesserand.

The president spent a very quiet Sunday, remaining at the White House during the entire day except when he attended service at Grace Reformed church in the morning, where the pastor, the Rev. John M. Schick, delivered the sermon. The church was crowded. The president walked to and from the church unattended.

The ambassador and Madame Jusserand remained at the White House until 11:30 o'clock. A portion of the time the ambassador was alone with the president. It is presumed that they discussed the complications between Venezuela and France growing out of the French Cable Company affair. Capt. W. S. Cowles, the president's brother-in-law, arrived in Washington tonight and went to the White House.

HOME MISSIONS TO BE THEME OF CONVENTION

GREENVILLE, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of Erie presbytery will be held in the Presbyterian church at Mercer October 4, 5 and 6. Lossa, Mrs. W. D. Brandon of Butler, Mrs. A. G. Trunkey of Franklin, Mrs. C. E. Woodward of Corry, Mrs. W. B. Isenberg of Sharon, and Miss M. J. Petrie, a missionary supported by the society.

COURT CASE RECALLS THE BLEVINS MURDER

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—An echo of the murder nearly eight years ago of City Treasurer John Blevins will be heard in the coming civil court term in the suit of the First National bank of New Castle against the city, to recover $5,400 worth of certificates of indebtedness cashed at that bank by Blevins shortly before his death. The city alleges the certificates had once been paid and that Blevins had no right to reissue them.

FINAL EFFORT TO SAVE PATRICK'S LIFE

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The final effort to save Albert E. Patrick, condemned to die for the murder of William Marsh Rice, will be made before the state court of appeals tomorrow. Ex-Senator David B. Hill will address the court in Patrick's behalf. His motion for reargument will be opposed by Assistant District Attorney Gans of New York.

Wanted for Theft of Diamond.

Word was received at the detective bureau last night that George Good, who is wanted in this city on a charge of stealing a $350 diamond ring, was arrested yesterday in Indianapolis. It is alleged he took the ring from Catherine Schaffer on June 24, and gave it to Jack Beardsley to pawn. Beardsley was arrested for receiving stolen goods and was released on bail for court.

Senator Heyburn Improving.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Senator Heyburn of Idaho, who has been ill with a mild form of appendicitis, continued to improve today. He is still confined to his apartments.

Cubbage Tenders Resignation.

A. B. Cubbage, assistant superintendent of the Carry furnace, tendered his resignation last night. It is thought that he will join H. A. Bassett at the Chicago rolling mills.

OHIO PASTOR TO COME TO PITTSBURGH CHURCH

The Rev. D. L. Boston.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—The Rev. D. L. Boston announced his resignation at the morning service at the Third Presbyterian church here today, to take effect October 22. The Rev. Mr. Boston has accepted a call to the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh.

He is a native of Mercer, Pa. He attended Wooster college and Allegheny Theological seminary. He has held pastorates at Freedom, Cool Spring and Sharpsville, in Pennsylvania, and in Creston, O. During his pastorate of seven years here he has placed a struggling church on a firm basis and received over 200 members.

BOY AT CENTRAL STATION VICTIM OF HOMESICKNESS

Arthur Matthews, Aged 15, Who Runs Away from Home, Refuses Food and Cannot Sleep.

Seldom do the police have to deal with a genuine case of homesickness, but there is one at Central station just now that is giving City Physician B. A. Booth considerable concern. Arthur Matthews, a 15-year-old lad, has been detained for the past three days at the police station and is in a deplorable condition because of the malady from which so many have suffered at some time in their lives.

The boy was arrested last Friday in Water street. At the same time Charles Seemiller was placed under arrest. He was carrying a number of brass oil cups and could give no satisfactory account of himself. It was learned at Central station that young Matthews had run away from his home in Hamilton, O., and Seemiller was held on suspicion of knowing something of a murder committed there recently. This proved not to be the case, however, and Seemiller was sent to jail for five days.

In the meantime the police communicated with the lad's parents and received word last night that they were too poor to pay for his return home. Since his confinement the boy has refused food and cannot sleep. Dr. Booth says it is a plain case of homesickness in aggravated form. The charities department will be asked today to provide transportation for the boy.

"CENSUS-TAKER" IS AGENT FOR SPEAKEASY DEVICE

Barrels of Bottles Found on Dayton Fair Ground Lead to Discovery of Ingenious Blind Pig.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

KITTANNING, Oct. 1.—Barrels of empty bottles which had contained liquor were found at the Dayton fair grounds after the fair last week. Investigation unearthed an ingenious speakeasy device.

Visitors to the fair were approached by a well-dressed stranger, who announced a census was being taken to learn what kinds of liquor were most in demand. "I'd like to have your name and the name of your favorite liquor," he continued.

This information being obtained, the "census-taker" went on: "Now, I can supply you with a sample bottle of this liquor at cost inside of an hour, or if you are in a hurry, I can get it to you in a few minutes." A "hurry order" was usually given.

MANY BUILDINGS BURNED.

Supposed Incendiary Fire in Japan Causes a Loss of Probably $5,000,000.

TOKYO, Oct. 1.—A fire that broke out in an army storehouse at Hiroshima at 1 o'clock this morning and is still burning, destroyed 20 temporary buildings, together with their contents, consisting principally of provisions and clothing. A large portion of the clothing was removed from a new storehouse the fire started.

In addition to the 20 buildings containing clothes and provisions, seven others filled with fodder were destroyed. Although the buildings were constructed of light material, they contained an enormous amount of stored goods, and the structures being of inflammable nature, the flames are difficult to extinguish, despite the desperate efforts of the troops. The fire spread with great rapidity. It was probably of incendiary origin. The loss is variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

PARADE IS PROHIBITED.

Torchlight Processions and Political Demonstrations Will Not Be Permitted in Hungary.

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, Oct. 1.—The preferet has issued an order prohibiting the torchlight processions which the coalition parties and the Socialists respectively announced yesterday would take place October 3.

Both parties have postponed their proposed demonstrations to October 10, the anniversary of the execution of Count Louis Batthyanyi, who was premier of Hungary in 1848, and who was arrested and executed by the Austrians the following year. The coalition parties intend to make a demonstration at the grave of Batthyanyi. There has been no change in the political crisis.

LETTER ON DEAD MAN POINTS TO A MYSTERY

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—William Blackburn, aged 33, who was beating his way on a Panhandle freight train, jumped off and leaped over the side of the railroad bridge here early this morning and was so badly injured he died later in the Gill hospital. According to a letter in his pockets he had been in a hospital in Columbus, in which city he has a sister, Mary Blackburn. In his pocket was a letter from a brother, George McElfatrick, of Philadelphia, asking why he and the sister had changed their names to Blackburn.

THREE MEN KILLED IN SWITCHING ACCIDENT

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Oct. 1.—A switch engine in the yards of the Louisville & Nashville railroad jumped the track at an early hour this morning and two men were instantly killed and a third died in the hospital a few hours later. The dead are: T. P. Bibb, Belle Mina, Ala.; Joseph Aaron, Bessemer, Ala., and L. M. Glass, Columbia, Ala.

Riot Is Not Serious.

A riot call was received in the office of the county detectives in the morgue yesterday afternoon from a mining camp near the Boyd school, Penn township. It was said that a fight was in progress between a score of foreigners and that several had been rendered unconscious with clubs and stones. Detective John H. Reed left for the scene and telephoned last night that the affair had not been serious and that he was city bound with a man whom he suspected of being the ringleader.

PUNXSUTAWNEY SCARED BY WEIRD BLACK GHOST

Ebony-Hued Specter Flits Mysteriously About the Town, Striking Terror Into Inhabitants—How It Adroitly Escapes Capture.

Special Telegram From
JOHN P. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Oct. 1.—Jefferson county has a black ghost. It's blacker than a Salem witch and more audacious than the most intrusive of the commonplace white-sheeted specters of tradition and romance. Women are afraid to go outdoors after dark and even men who laugh at phantoms give the ebony-hued terror a broad path.

She is the "woman in black." She starts abroad at dusk and haunts the streets until after midnight. It seems she can't be captured. She scares the children, pinches the girls and terrifies the "mashers," but continues to prosecute her campaign without molestation. Chief of Police Palmer and his whole force have started a hue and cry for her arrest—but the people say that she is an ethereal being that cannot be corralled.

"Have you seen the 'woman in black?'"

This is a constant question that is flung at every stranger who comes to town. When you laugh at the query, the Punxsyites become serious. It's no joke to them. She wears a black robe of rusty appearance and has her face obscured by a coarse, heavy veil. She is bent and decrepit in appearance, but paradoxically enough, moves about at a rapid gait. Those who attempt to follow her have invariably been given an elusive dodge and while they were in pursuit she would mysteriously disappear in a dark alley.

She never comes out during the light of the moon and keeps away from the glare of the arc lights. Early in the night she would be reported to be flitting through the deserted lanes of Lindsey and a little later some one would declare that she was stealing across a vacant lot "up by the brewery."

The weird stranger made her first appearance two weeks ago. Then she seemed to venture only through the suburbs. Now she is seen frequently and has been seen on the main thoroughfares of the town during the late hours of the night.

A traveling man arrived at the Pantall hotel late last night. After he had registered and had left a call for 7:30 with the usual admonition for ice water, the clerk asked:

"Have you seen the 'woman in black?'"

"Now don't try to kid me," answered the drummer. "I've read everything Wilkie Collins ever wrote."

The late-coming guest then took out a cigaret and went out for a little stroll through the public square. He came back about 10 minutes later looking a trifle curious.

"I believe I really did see your 'woman in black,'" he said. "A strange looking thing dodged up right out of the shadow of the hotel here and scurried over across the park as fast as a deer. I need something for my nerves."

Other persons have had similar experiences and Chief Palmer has been asked to renew his efforts to solve the mystery.

LITTLE BOY'S REMAINS FOUND IN BURNED BARN

Four-Year-Old Had Crept in While His Mother Was Trying to Rescue a Horse.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SHARON, PA., Oct. 1.—A search made in the ruins of the barn of Jacob Hoelzel, which was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, disclosed the charred remains of 4-year-old Martin McMullen, son of John McMullen. Only a few bones, teeth and the buttons of his little blouse were found.

Mrs. McMullen had gone into the barn to release the horse when the fire started, but the animal was jumping about in the stall and she returned to the house for a knife with which to cut the halter rope. Martin had followed her into the barn and she supposed he came out with her.

When she again reached the barn door she heard the little one scream. She made a futile effort to re-enter the building. The flames drove her back, burning her severely about the head. When her husband learned that the boy was in the blazing building it required five men to prevent him from rushing into the flames to certain death.

ALLEGHENY MERCHANTS JOINING ORGANIZATION

New Body Formed to Fight Stamp Business Increased by 128 New Members.

An informal meeting of the United Retailers' Anti-Stamp Protective association of Allegheny county was held yesterday afternoon in Kenyon's hall, Federal street, Allegheny. President Alfred Watson was in the chair, but no business was transacted other than to enroll new members.

Scores of merchants who took no part in the business of organizing last Wednesday night attended yesterday, and 128 new members were enrolled. This brings the membership above 200 and assures the success of the movement in Allegheny. A small initiation fee is charged, but no member will be assessed until the actual work of uprooting the stamp business in the North Side stores is commenced. This will not be until after next Wednesday, when a meeting will be held in Kenyon's hall for the purpose of adopting a constitution and by-laws. A committee, of which H. C. McKelvy is the chairman, is at work now and the draught of the rules will be submitted on Wednesday night.

The North Side merchants say they are determined first to abolish stamps from Allegheny and then to lend aid to storekeepers all through Allegheny county to accomplish the same end.

SAYS SHE'S A BARONESS.

Nurse in Japanese War Returns Home to Announce Marriage to Russian Nobleman Named "Ward."

Bringing to her friends the announcement that she is a Russian baroness, Miss Martha Hayes, who served as a Red Cross nurse during the Russian-Japanese war, is visiting at her home in White station, near McKeesport.

Little is known of the reported romance, for the "baroness" is reticent about giving full information. According to her story, she met a Russian baron bearing the distinctively Russian name of "Ward," during her two years' service as nurse and that an engagement and wedding followed shortly after. She says Ward is a nobleman and confidential agent for his government. The baron is said to have accompanied the baroness as far as San Francisco, "where he is purchasing supplies for Russia." Her ladyship is to join him shortly and they are to make their home in China. The baroness is about 30 years old and is well known in McKeesport.

NINE IN ONE GRAVE.

Mother Who Slays Seven Children, and Father Who Kills Himself All Rest Together at Last.

CAMBRIDGE, ILL., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—An entire family, father, mother and seven children, wiped out yesterday by violent deaths, was buried today in a single grave. Two plain black cloth coffins containing the bodies of Clarence Markham, aged 41, suicide, and his wife, aged 35, murderess and suicide, were ranged along with seven little white caskets, containing the bodies of their children, slain yesterday by the mother.

Mrs. Markham, under a spell of insanity yesterday killed her seven children, the oldest of whom was 12 years, and after setting fire to their home, ended her own life. Markham returned at night and on finding himself bereft, shot himself to death after tieing a rop sround his neck so he would have been choked to death if the bullet had not done its work.

YORK, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—John R. Lichtenberger, son of the late Samuel Lichtenberger, committed shicide in the office of his greenhouse north of York Friday night by shooting himself through the head. The body was not found until this morning. He was 45 years old and unmarried, and his father recently died and left him an estate valued at $25,000.

Two Brothers Drowned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Two boys, Percy Dudley, aged 10, and George Dudley, 18 years old, brothers, were drowned in the Potomac river today. The younger boy fell from a boat and the brother leaped into the water to save him. Both went down before assistance could reach them.

FIRST ARREST IS MADE IN SUIT CASE MYSTERY

Boston Police Take Into Custody a Man Who Is Said to Have Cut Up a Body.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The first arrest in connection with the finding in the harbor near Winthrop, September 21, of a dress suit case containing the torso of a woman on whom the medical examiner states an illegal operation had been performed, occurred today when the police took into custody on suspicion of being an accomplice in the case William A. Haynes of 52 Chamber street, West End, this city.

The arrest is said to have been made on statements made by Samuel A. Wingfield, who told the police he had a friend who had cut up a body.

Haynes was examined at length by the police, and while he denied the accusation and claimed his friend had confused it with his being on a coroner's jury, he was locked up. Haynes is a clerk in a shipping office. Wingfield was also held as a witness.

READY FOR OPENING.

Every Preparation Is Made for Initial Production of Belasco's "Girl of the Golden West."

"The Girl of the Golden West," the new play written by David Belasco for Miss Blanche Bates, will have its first performance on any stage at the Belasco theater tomorrow evening. This play, a drama in four acts, preceded by two scenic tableaux, is expected to prove the capstone of the wonderful career of David Belasco, the author.

"The Girl of the Golden West" breathes of the Sierras. Its characters in the plot are rough, untutored delvers into the earth, yet each has a heart which is made manifest throughout the entire action and dialogue. Western life among the gold seekers in those days of California is assayed throughout the stages of the drama into fine gold, which is burnished into a pleasing, finished story, replete with emotions such as appeal more directly to the intelligent understanding.

The two tableaux preceding the play afford graphic pictures of "Cloudy Mountain," in the Sierras, and of the exterior of the "Polka" saloon, the place of business of "The Girl." The plot opens in this saloon with the "Girl," Miss Bates, and the stranger, Mr. Hilliard, in the foreground, and moves in the next act to the home of the "Girl," where, at an unseemly hour she is discovered in company with the stranger. A most dramatic situation is shown in this act. The scene moves to the dance hall of the "Polka" saloon, where revelry of the true, western type of half a century ago is depicted. The finale depicts the boundless prairies of the far west at early dawn and is a most realistic and beautiful scene.

DRILLING A GAS WELL IN HEART OF SHARPSBURG

A gas well is being drilled in the crowded business district of Sharpsburg and already shows signs of being successful. The well is at the plant of the H. J. Heinz glass factory, and the gas will be used to operate the plant during the winter months, when the works are usually closed on account of the high price of gas. The well is 950 feet deep and is already emitting gas. The glass plant is at Eighteenth street, in the midst of a built-up industrial section.

OFFICER FIRES AT BURGLARS; FOG AIDS THEIR FLIGHT

Three burglars who attempted to enter the house of Joseph Ackerman of Sycamore street, Etna, early yesterday morning, were chased through the streets of the borough by Officer Benjamin McMann, who fired his revolver repeatedly in a vain effort to check their flight. The men escaped through the fog, running down the Pittsburgh & Western railroad tracks. The men were found on the porch of the Ackerman residence attempting to unlock the door.

SOLDIER MURDERS HIS COMRADE WITH BAYONET

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Peter McIntyre, a private in the One Hundred and First company, coast artillery, was stabbed and killed last night in the barracks at Fort Totten, L. I., by Private William Snyder. The men had quarrelled and Snyder was heard to say in a saloon near the fort he had to kill McIntyre before midnight. Coming on McIntyre as the latter was going upstairs in the quarters, he plunged a bayonet into his back, killing him instantly.

COXEY'S COLONEL WILL RECALL OLD TIMES

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Charles Enochs, known as Col. Enochs of Coxey army fame, will leave tomorrow for Hagerstown to attend the fair. He will march on Hagerstown as he marched towards the capitol at Washington—with all his effects in a wheelbarrow. He will start down the towpath and his trip will occupy about six days' time.

Electrical Lockout Continues.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—A conference of representatives of the locked-out electrical workers and their employers was held today and lasted nearly five hours, but so far as known no agreement was reached. Herr von Schultz, president of the government arbitration bureau, vainly appealed to the companies to defer the lockout so as not to accentuate the dispute.

Royal Cruise Is Ended.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—The members of the imperial family who have been cruising in Finnish waters on the imperial yacht Polar Star, returned to Peterhof this evening.

TWO MEN MEET THEIR DEATH IN THE RIVER

William Flatley, a Watchman and Expert Swimmer, Drowns in Three Feet of Water.

William Flatley, aged 39, employed as a watchman for the Drake-Stratton Company on barges at the foot of Hazelwood avenue, was found drowned in three and one-half feet of water near where he was employed yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. Flatley was an expert swimmer and it is supposed he was overcome by a fit, to which he was subject, and fell into the river. Flatley lived with his family at 56 Holland street. He did not work Saturday afternoon and when leaving home Saturday told his wife not to sit up for him as he intended remaining with a sick friend. He was last seen alive at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The body was found lying between two barges by the night watchman, and was sent to his home.

A man supposed to be Samuel Millage was drowned in the Allegheny river at Aspinwall at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was working with three others for the J. K. Davison Coal Company, loading a small coal float. The boat sank and the men were thrown into the water. It is not known where Millage lives. His check number was 17.

Ferdinand da Rinquina, died at the Homeopathic hospital at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries sustained by falling into a pit at the powerhouse of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, Carson street, Friday. He was hurt internally and his spine was fractured. The dead man was aged 40, married, and lived at 1207 Mulberry alley.

An unknown man was killed on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at McKees Rocks at 8:15 last night.

Howard George, aged 20, laborer, of Stanton avenue, was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad at East Liberty station yesterday morning. He was walking on the tracks when run down.

The coroner was notified last night of the sudden death of George F. Wellhoff, a farmer, aged 50, whose home was in Patton township, near Wilmerding.

GIVES THREE FOR ONE.

Such Is Proposition Western Reserve University Returns to Students Who Pay Tuition Fees.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 1.—The annual report of President Thwing of Western Reserve university, shows that for every dollar given by the students of Western Reserve university in payment for tuition the university gives about $3.

The choices of study which men and women make does not vary greatly. Few women choose the natural and physical sciences and fewer still the mathematics. The number of men who elect the mathematics and sciences is relatively small. The most popular studies are English, history, economics and philosophy.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, are yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin, peppermint, malted veal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water-brash, sour stomach, gas and belching after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by any other means. Unlike cathartics and other pills which have absolutely no digestive power, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

RAILROAD MEN ARE PLEASED

Conviction of the Chicago Meat Packers Is Regarded With Satisfaction.

REBATES ARE DENOUNCED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 1.

The conviction of the Chicago packers is regarded with satisfaction in railroad circles here. The fear of similar convictions, railroad men say, will be an excellent deterrent in the future for greedy corporations which are often in a position to offer to a railroad the alternative of making a rate discrimination in their favor or losing a large and profitable business. Many of the large industrial combinations have employed special freight agents to ferret out the lowest possible rate irrespective of what the published tariff might be. The result was to put a premium on evasions of the law.

In this connection local railroad men are citing the recent testimony of A. B. Stickney, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad Company, before Judge Bethea in the federal court at Chicago in an interstate commerce case. Mr. Stickney said:

"The packer generally tells you that if you want the business you must haul the meat for the price he names. In fixing the rate on dressed meats we don't have much to say. The packer generally makes the rate."

It is recalled here that in the testimony of railroad officers before the senate committee on interstate commerce, all these officers strongly condemned the rebate system and urged that the Elkins law against rebates be strictly enforced. In addition, many railroad presidents, in newspaper interviews and magazine articles, have registered their emphatic disapproval of the rebate.

Railroad Men Agreed.

George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey, in a recent magazine article stated:

"The railroad companies are just as anxious to abolish discriminations, rebates and all the devices which more or less, from necessity, characterized the past, as the most ardent reformer can be, and they have not only accomplished much in this direction by their own efforts, but they have likewise aided in securing legislation to prevent these things. The average shipper always wants a concession."

President Samuel Spencer of the Southern railway said recently:

"There is no difference of opinion on the subject that rebates are wrong and that they must be stopped; that secret and discriminatory devices of all kinds, direct and indirect, must meet with the same fate, and, to use President Roosevelt's own expression, that 'the highways of transportation must be kept open to all upon equal terms.' On that basis the railway companies are ready and anxious to aid and co-operate."

James J. Hill, in an interview on the subject, has said:

"Every railroad would be happy to have rebates abolished and the law against them enforced."

Favors Additional Legislation.

Lucius Tuttle, president of the Boston & Maine railroad, wrote in a recent magazine article:

"I am heartily in favor of such carefully thought-out additional legislation as may be found needful for ending and forever preventing railways from conspiring to give, and, what is vastly more important, their customers combining to extort, any favors or facilities that may not, under like circumstances and conditions, be given to and received by all. * * * The present law seems adequate and sufficient, if thoroughly applied, to enable the interstate commerce commission to bring to light, punish and prevent every form of rebating and secret rate giving or taking."

David Willcox, president of the Delaware & Hudson company, in his last official report to stockholders, says:

"The recent discussion of the subject makes it proper to say that this company, in common with the railway companies of the country jointly, has no desire that rebates, secret rate cutting or unjust discrimination or undue or unreasonable preference in railway service shall be tolerated. Such practices are prohibited by existing statutes, and, as the interstate commerce commission states in its last annual report, have practically ceased. If anything further can be devised in the direction of their suppression it will undoubtedly have the earnest support of the railways."

Would Enforce Present Law.

President W. H. Truesdale of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, in his address before the last annual meeting of the company in New York, declared:

"The railway interests are practically a unit in favoring the strict enforcement of existing laws or the enactment of others to prevent the payment of rebates or any of the several forms of discrimination which have been more or less prevalent and very justly condemned."

These are a few of the utterances of railroad presidents all over the country decrying the rebate evil. At the same time, the railroad men point out that none of the rate bills presented in congress during the last session touches the rebate question in the slightest degree. Rebates, they argue, would be possible under any form of government control. Their contention is that the enforcement of present legislation is amply sufficient to stamp out the evil.

LAWYER IS SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR GAMBLING

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Thirty men were surprised at William Todd's gaming room at 3 o'clock this morning by the police, and all were placed under arrest. The entire crowd was marched to the police station, where all paid fines except John Nelson, a young lawyer, who failed to produce $15 for his fine and costs. He was sentenced to jail for 30 days.

COSHOCTON DEDICATES PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

COSHOCTON, O., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—The new Presbyterian church was dedicated today by the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffatt, president of Washington and Jefferson college and moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, assisted by the Rev. Wallace M. Hamilton, pastor. The church cost $50,000.

A Handsome Booklet.

Failure

to cure indigestion is largely due to the old theory that when the stomach becomes inactive it needs something to mechanically digest its contents, and cathartics, purgatives, etc., are used, which give only temporary relief.

Doctors now recognize the fact that it is the nerves that furnishes motive power to digest the contents of the stomach. When they become weakened they lack energy, and indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach result.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine will relieve obstinate cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and stomach trouble by strengthening the nerves.

"My daughter had stomach trouble, doctors said she could not live. We gave her Dr. Miles' Nervine. She got better from the first, and four bottles cured her."

STRONG WORDS FOR BOWEN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—In correspondence between President Roosevelt and Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, made public here tonight, the president says that Secretary Hay disagreed with him on "even the mild censure" of Mr. Loomis in the Taft report on the investigation of the charges brought by Mr. Bowen, the former minister to Venezuela, and adds that Secretary Hay very strongly condemned Mr. Bowen's course. The president quotes Mr. Hay as declaring that most of the charges were really against himself (Mr. Hay) and "not against Mr. Loomis at all," and that Mr. Bowen knew that.

The following correspondence was given to the press today:

"Department of State,
"Washington, D. C., Sept. 25, 1905.

"Dear Mr. President:

"For some time past there have appeared in various newspapers, including some of the journals published in New York, statements, more or less direct, to the effect that grave differences of opinion existed between yourself and the late secretary of state, Mr. Hay, concerning both myself and the action to be taken by you upon the findings and report of Secretary Taft in the matter of the charges made against me by Mr. Bowen, a former United States minister to Venezuela. I will cite a case in point:

Wants to Know the Truth.

"Not long ago a responsible New York paper, to which, I am reliably informed upon the best of authority, Mr. Bowen has been freely offering material for use, printed the following paragraphs:

"'Practically the last official act of Mr. Hay's life was to visit the White House for the purpose of urging the president not to dismiss Bowen and to dismiss Loomis, but learning that the president's mind was made up, he went away with his message unspoken.

"'Mr. Hay thoroughly disliked and distrusted him (myself) and told the president so, but was unable to produce any effect on the president's mind.'

"Similar suggestions, more or less circumstantial in form, have so frequently appeared in the public prints that I am constrained to inquire whether, in so far as you are aware, they are supported by any basis of truth?

"I do not know what private conversation may have taken place between yourself and Mr. Hay concerning me and my course of conduct while connected with the public service, but I do know from Mr. Hay's own lips something of his opinion concerning Mr. Bowen and I know full well both the unfailing courtesy with which Mr. Hay received my suggestions concerning departmental matters and the personal cordiality which he always manifested toward me.

Last Hour With John Hay.

"In December last I went to Mr. Hay's house and told him that I expected to resign from the department within the course of the next eight or nine months. He was good enough to say: 'I am extremely sorry to hear this; I have always hoped you would remain in your present position as long as I remained in the cabinet.'

"On other occasions, both before and since that time, Mr. Hay accorded me seemingly convincing proof of his confidence.

"It may interest you to know that at Mr. Hay's request I spent at his home practically the last hour of his life in Washington. Having upon that occasion indicated to me fully and lucidly, as was his wont, what he wished my two colleagues and myself to do in the lines of departmental action and policy to be carried out during his absence, he referred to the then recent Bowen episode with much feeling. Among other things he said that he was disgusted with Bowen beyond expression; that vanity appeared to be a disease with him, and that he was both disloyal and untruthful, and had been treacherous not only to him (Mr. Hay), but to the country.

"In view of this conversation, to which I have adverted in the briefest possible manner, it is difficult for me to believe that there is any truth in either of the foregoing paragraphs which I have quoted or any others which have been printed of similar import.

"As I am very soon to retire from the public service I trust you will not feel that I am unduly or improperly trespassing upon your time with this rather personal matter.

"Respectfully and sincerely yours,
"FRANCIS B. LOOMIS."

"The President."

Mr. Roosevelt's Emphatic Denial.

The president's letter follows:

"Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 27, 1905.

"My Dear Mr. Loomis:

"In answer to your letter of September 25, I desire to state, in the broadest and most emphatic manner, that the statement you quote as appearing in certain newspapers and especially in certain New York newspapers, as to the supposed differences of opinion between myself and the late secretary of state, Mr. Hay, in respect to the action taken by me regarding Mr. Bowen in connection with the charges against you is not merely without foundation in fact, but is the direct reverse of the truth.

"You were appointed assistant secretary of state upon Mr. Hay's suggestion and request. He never spoke to me about you save with respect and cordial appreciation of the services you were rendering, and he expressed to me very great regret that you were going to leave the service, and stated that he had hoped that you would stay in as long as he did and that he would find it difficult to get anyone in your place whom he would like so much.

"Mr. Hay expressed himself very freely on the occasion of his last visit to Washington, including the last occasion when I ever saw him alive, as regards the action taken by me on the report of Mr. Taft concerning the charges made by Mr. Bowen against you.

Mr. Hay Used Strong Language.

"Not only did he express himself about Mr. Bowen to me in the language you quote him as having used at about the same time to you in speaking of Mr. Bowen, but he also condemned Mr. Bowen in much stronger terms than those which you quote him as having used, and dwelt particularly upon the fact of what he called the treachery and disloyalty of Mr. Bowen to the government and to him (Mr. Hay), repeating again and again that most of the charges Mr. Bowen made were really not charges against you at all, but against himself (Mr. Hay) and that Mr. Bowen, of course, knew this.

"Moreover, Mr. Hay used about Mr. Bowen, stronger language of condemnation than I have ever heard him use about any other man who had served under him. But this was not all. Mr. Hay then did what he very rarely indeed did. He expressed his strong dissent from the action I had taken in indorsing Mr. Taft's report as regards even the mild censure of you which it contained, stating that he disagreed with both Mr. Taft and myself on this point, and felt that you were in no way whatever censurable, and that the only action that had been called for was the dismissal of Mr. Bowen and the announcement of your entire vindication.

"Very truly yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"Hon. Francis B. Loomis, department of state, Washington, D. C."

LOOMIS TO HAVE DIPLOMATIC POST

Currently Reported He Is to Succeed Conger as Ambassador to Mexico.

HAS PRESIDENT'S CONFIDENCE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 1.

Francis B. Loomis of Ohio, assistant secretary of state, who will leave that office within the next few days, will be given some place of importance in the diplomatic service. President Roosevelt recently has told friends of the Ohio man he expects to retain the services of Mr. Loomis, and it is quite generally believed here he will get the post of ambassador to Mexico, recently vacated by Mr. Conger.

This is one of the best places in the diplomatic service from a financial standpoint. The salary is $17,500 a year in gold, which makes it worth $35,000 in that silver country. No official announcement has yet been made of the president's intention of appointing Mr. Loomis to this position, but the fact there is a vacancy and that the president is determined to find a good place for Mr. Loomis, makes this arrangement a strong probability.

In the event this country should decide to participate in the Moroccan conference, it is possible Mr. Loomis may be appointed to represent the United States in that meeting. The fact is, Mr. Loomis emerged from the Bowen-Loomis scandal with clean skirts and retaining the respect and faith of President Roosevelt. He was able to explain satisfactorily all the charges brought against him, and the report of Secretary Taft exonerated him completely. It is to show his complete confidence in Mr. Loomis that the president has decided to give him an important post in the service.

It is understood one of the first things to which Secretary of State Root will turn his attention upon taking charge of the department this week, will be the consular service of this government, and that he will turn things over somewhat in an effort to work needed reforms. At the recent conference at Oyster Bay, in which Secretary Root, Senator Lodge and Former Ambassador Choate participated, the poorly-organized foreign service was the topic of discussion.

It was generally agreed that improvements in this branch of the government were needed and this view has been strengthened by the remarks of Secretary Taft since his return from the Philippines. Just what changes will be determined upon is not known, but it is certain that something will be done in the near future to give the United States a better and more efficient representation in foreign countries.

Any proposed reorganization of the diplomatic and consular service is of interest to Pennsylvania. This state has one ambassador and three ministers in the service, and has 45 men in the consular branch, holding positions big and little.

JAPAN BEGINS TO RENEW COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT

TOKYO, Oct. 1.—A joint meeting of the chambers of commerce of the empire was formally opened here today in the local chamber of commerce building. The meeting has been called to consider the post-bellum development of commerce and industry. Today's session adjourned after sitting a few hours. The cabinet ministers will be invited to address the meeting. Forty-nine chambers of commerce are represented.

WALTER CAMP ON FOOTBALL

New Comers Are Doing Good Work at Princeton—Quakers Have Fine Kickers.

THE OUTLOOK AT HARVARD

By WALTER CAMP.

Another week of the football season has brought encouragement in some quarters and a corresponding disappointment in others. Perhaps the greatest amount of encouragement has come to those whose prospects looked gloomiest. This is certainly the case down in New Jersey, where the work of two or three of the comparatively unknown men has been most encouraging. This does not mean necessarily that Princeton is likely to run up phenomenal scores at the outset, but it does mean that the men are showing promise of steady consistency.

Tenney at quarter is unmistakably clever, for more so that outsiders had any reason to suppose from his work of last season. Besides being a strong connecting link between the line and back field, he promises to show some of that brilliancy in quarter-back running which was practically monopolized last season by Stevenson of Pennsylvania. Brasher has evidently made the most of his long experience on the second team, and he and Tooker should make a pair of strong ends for Princeton, and this is always a measure for the later work of Princeton's team.

Princeton's best work has always been done when her ends were first-class. With Brasher, Cooper and Dillon on one side the line; Rafferty, Herring and Tooker on the other side, with Dutcher and Carthers to fill up the center, with Tenney at quarter and McCormick at fullback, Princeton's problem is simplifying itself considerably into finding the proper men for halves and getting a strong enough team to try out the varsity.

Quakers Will Kick.

The board of coaches are not permitting any time to lapse without endeavoring to develop a good man for quarter-back at Pennsylvania, for they are quite as cognizant of conditions as are the outside critics. With the excellent kicking of Reynolds and two good ends, Pennsylvania knows that the conditions of the old days have passed by, when her eleven was wont to meet Harvard and repeat, despite individual effort hold the Crimson level; only to be forced each by superior punting. The generalship of her contest this year can be based upon a certainty that in the kicking game Penn will again this season not only hold her own with Harvard, but gather in more net ground gained in exchange than her Crimson rival.

At New Haven material is still plenty for back field positions and more promising for the men. The forwards still lack that solidity which promises a heavy line for the season's play, but they certainly look bigger than a week ago. Some of the men who came back considerably under weight are picking up and looking more as if they would stand October's gruelling practice. The canceling of the game with Trinity has put off anything like a measure of the line men until next Wednesday, and then they promise to get a good trying-out, for Wesleyan, whom they meet on that under Reiter, the former Princetonian. Yale day, has been hard at work for some time may catch a tartar for two short halves. The news that Hinkey will be at work with the Yale ends through the season is most encouraging, and the frequent visits of Sanford and Adee promises to help out the center and quarter.

Harvard's Outlook.

At Cambridge, Reid is still showing his fairness and tenacity of purpose by working out material. Everyone who shows promise is getting a look over, at least, and he will certainly carry into the early games of October a far greater possibility of choice than Harvard has had for several seasons. More than that, his selection of coaches in the main could hardly be better, and they are men who will work with him faithfully. Some of his minor disappointments in the way of poor play by men whose physique showed promise only emphasized his wisdom in spreading out over enough ground to have other men to fall back on. The first day of scrimmage work showed so-called good men poor in execution, while several of those who would hardly have been considered by most coachers turned up with more football than could have been imagined. On the whole, the weakness still looks as though it would come on the ends and inexperienced kickers. The sooner this fact is located definitely the longer time and the greater possibility will there be for remedying it.

ROLLER POLO LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED AT WARREN O.

WARREN, O., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Akron, Canton, Niles, Youngstown, New Castle and Warren were represented at the meeting of the Interstate Roller Polo league here this afternoon. President William Foor of Indianapolis presided. Franchises were granted to L. E. Anderson and B. J. Jones of Canton, and Sam F. Darcus of New Castle. Neither of these cities was represented at the former meetings. It was decided to employ three traveling referees. The constitution and bylaws of the Western and Central leagues, with slight alterations were adopted. The playing rules of the Central league were adopted. A schedule committee composed of W. W. Williams, Donald McCurdy of Warren and Harry Reynolds of Youngstown, was appointed. The season will open November 6, and each team will play two games a week at home.

BOWLING NOTES.

The North Side team of the Allegheny section is desirous of getting match games with any strong team in either city for most any night this week. Call up Federal alleys for particulars.

There is a general meeting call for all teams of the Allegheny County Duckpin league, to be held on the Wylie avenue alleys this evening at 8:30. All business of the past season will be closed and plans for the next season taken up.

The Millvale Independent team of the Allegheny section, would like to get a practice game with any team for Tuesday or Thursday night. Answer through The Gazette.

There is a meeting called for the Monongahela valley section on Senz's alleys, Braddock, for Friday night at 8 o'clock. All teams must be represented, as business of importance will be taken up and closed for the coming season.

The Liberty Valley league will open its season in a blaze of glory on the Penn avenue alleys this evening, with a match between the Shadyside and Schanley teams. It is expected there will be a large and enthusiastic crowd present.

The St. Vincent's Literary association of the South Side opened its new bowling alleys yesterday afternoon. The first ball was thrown by Andrew Stock, the oldest member of the club, who succeeded in knocking down five of the pins. Nicholas Sellers, another old member, tossed the second ball, but was not so successful as Mr. Stock, only hitting one pin. A match game was then played between two picked teams of the club, the one known as "Hamm's 25 Specials" defeating the team designated as the "Wall Papers" by the score of 725 to 658 points.

The St. Vincent's Literary association is one of the most prominent German Catholic clubs in the city and has been in existence for a number of years. The bowling alley is a new feature, however, and is expected to prove quite an addition to the already popular club. The alleys have been erected at a considerable cost and are of the latest improved pattern. This week will be taken up with trials for the highest scores made with three balls. About 25 valuable prizes have been offered as an inducement to the winners in this event, and the club also offers $10 in gold for the highest and $5 in gold for the second. The first big match game will take place on Monday evening, October 9, when the Senators of the Southern Bowling league will meet the team of the St. Vincent's Literary association.

DATE IS ANNOUNCED FOR PRINCETON GAMES

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Princeton will soon begin with her fall track work, and preliminary to the regular training as well as for the purpose of bringing out and developing all the new material possible, a cross-country squad has been organized. About forty men have reported on the squad, and are daily put through a sharp jog under the direction of J. S. Eisele, 1906.

The regular annual fall track games of the University Track association will be held on the university field on Thursday, October 12, and the following events will be contested: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, quarter-mile run, half-mile run, mile run, two-mile run, 120-yard hurdles, 220-yard hurdles, shot put, hammer throw, high jump, broad jump, pole vault. The games will be open to all men of the university except those who have won their "P's" for track work. Cash prizes will be awarded those who win first places, and gold, silver and bronze medals will go to the winners of first, second and third places, respectively.

FITZSIMMONS STILL EAGER TO MEET MARVIN HART

Bob Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Fitzsimmons, Leon Friedman, the pugilist's manager, his theatrical company, and any number of French poodle dogs, arrived in Pittsburgh last night. Fitz immediately went to East Liberty, where he and his company will appear this week in "A Fight For Love," while Friedman toured Pittsburgh proper in the hope of locating Marvin Hart, the Louisville heavyweight, or his manager, but as neither are in the city, he was disappointed. Discussing the possibility of Fitzsimmons and Hart meeting in the roped arena to settle the much disputed and claimed heavyweight title, Friedman said:

"Ever since Hart defeated Jack Root, last July, he has been claiming the championship, and declaring that he was the superior of Fitz, and that he would be more than pleased to mix it with the 'old man.' We have said little, if any attention, to his idle conversation, feeling that he did not care to really meet Fitzsimmons. Ruby Robert, however, being a professional pugilist, and having some desire to work at his trade, requested me last Saturday night to try and arrange a go with Hart, so I issued the challenge in New York last Sunday, and as yet have not heard from Mr. Hart or his representative, but expected to meet one of them in Pittsburgh tonight in order to sign articles of agreement. I am sorry that I cannot locate them, as I think Hart would be quite easy for Fitzsimmons. The dean of the prize ring is in great shape for a go, and nothing would suit me better than to get Hart and him together. However, I do not believe that Hart cares for any of Fitz's game."

Mason's Man in Demand.

Larry Temple is in demand at the fighting clubs around Boston. Temple will start to train at the rooms of the Business Men's club, Fifth avenue, today. He will be assisted by Young Zirbser, the 126-pounder, and any local boxers that wish may call there and put the gloves on for a friendly set-to. The Douglas club of Chelsea, Mass., is the club that wants Temple to fight Langford and the date is October 13.

British Eleven's First Defeat.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The all-Chicago association football team today defeated the British eleven, 2 to 1. This is the first time the Englishmen have been beaten by an American team during their trip. The combination work of the visitors was perfect, but the local men excelled in the kicking game, winning both their goals from long kicks from the field.

Dave Fultz Is Improving.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—"Dave" Fultz, the New York American's center fielder, who was injured in Saturday's game when he collided with Norman Elberfeld, was said to be improving at the Washington Heights hospital tonight. The surgeons said that although Fultz is badly bruised he will not be permanently disabled, and within a few days will be well enough to leave the hospital.

Annual Squash Bake.

The different local pigeon clubs had their annual squash bake yesterday at Charles Clunes's orchard, Carrick. The bake was a success.

TRIBUTE TO CAPT. DRAVO.

Merrill Dam Celebration Association Passes Resolutions and Will Attend Funeral.

ROCHESTER, PA., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—The Merrill Dam Celebration association met at Leas hall here this afternoon to take action on the death of Capt. John F. Dravo, who was president of the association. The meeting was presided over by First Vice President James P. Leas.

Resolutions drawn up by the Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Prof. J. O. Hillman and J. L. A. Dawson, burgess of Beaver Falls, were passed. A committee on flowers was appointed, and it was decided to attend the funeral of Capt. Dravo in a body. The funeral will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church, Beaver, at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, and the members of the association will meet on the court house steps, Beaver, at 1 o'clock to proceed to the funeral.

JEW-BAITING AT SCHOOL.

Syracuse Woman Alleges Her Son Was Persecuted at a Naval Academy on Account of His Race.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Forced to leave the Webb Naval academy at Fordham Heights because he was repeatedly hazed and forced to suffer indignities, all because he is a Hebrew, is the claim of Abraham Klein of Syracuse.

Klein won a scholarship at the academy, but after he was there for a few days he was told the institution would not tolerate a Jewish boy. Mrs. Klein had a conference with Supt. Chaffee, in which, according to her, Mr. Chaffee said it was asking too much to expect her boy to receive the same treatment as the other boys.

WILL SOON RETURN WITH GREENE AND GAYNOR

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—The two United States marshals who came here to get Capt. Greene and Col. Gaynor, will go to Ottawa tomorrow to deliver their credentials to the governor general of Canada. This course is somewhat unusual and is regarded as a mark of courtesy in this peculiar case, as it will facilitate matters for the Canadian officials. The marshals expect to leave Montreal on Wednesday with their prisoners.

Liquor Under the Floor.

Police Capt. Lawrence Bartley arrested Maggie Harris of 15 Shingiss street and Annie Weber of 17 Shingiss street, yesterday on charges of keeping a disorderly house. At the Weber woman's house the police found a stock of liquor under the floor between the rafters.

MANY MATTERS PREVAIL TO MYSTIFY THE PEOPLE

One Is as to How the Great Sunday Gazette Sells for Only a Nickel.

We are living in an age of mystery. The wizard with his wand changes, in the twinkling of an eye, grewsome objects into things of rarest beauty; the man of legerdemain, in full view of applauding people, extracts apples, rabbits, chickens and even rolls of money from trousers pockets believed to contain only a hiatus; Deacon Brown, although still selling 12 ounces of sugar for a pound, takes up the collection in church and several people are still voting the Democratic ticket. Many matters are transpiring every day that are hard to understand, one of the most important of which is how The Sunday Gazette can be distributed to its vast army of readers for only a nickel a copy. This, of course, is more a mystery to the layman than to one in the business. The latter runs his eye over the advertising columns and is not on the answer. He recognizes the fact that the people are advertising in the paper that the people read, and that it is a combination hard to beat. Yesterday's paper was a gem of pure delight. It contained something for everybody. The local columns were brimful of news, a large portion of which will probably be found in other papers today, just 24 hours old as usual. There was a diversified assortment of reading matter from European capitals, and enough fiction to keep a 25-cent monthly periodical running for half a year.

In the department devoted to special articles there was a story about American artists by one well qualified to write on the subject. E. Lisle Snell wrote about "Scholarships Worth $10,000 for American Girls." Col. A. K. McClure contributes some history on the railroad riots of 1877, and Catherine Howard imparts some information on how to select a tailor gown which the women readers will find interesting. O. Henry, John Trask and Derek Vane each contributed short stories. In the realm of domestic news The Sunday Gazette was par excellence. The program was as follows:

Two sisters, both aged about 70 years, jumped for their lives and one fractured her skull. Westinghouse interests have invaded continental Europe with a new company with headquarters in Holland. Sensational disclosures in an Illinois town are likely to reveal a plot and tragedy linking two murders and a suicide. John W. Gates is in absolute control of the Republic Iron and Steel Company. President Roosevelt was greeted by cheering thousands upon his return to Washington. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., wants to see his father give largely for model tenements for the poor. Gov. Hanly of Indiana has been reconciled to Vice President Fairbanks. The state of Minnesota lost in a mining suit of far-reaching importance. State Chairman Dick is conducting a unique campaign against Candidate Pattison in Ohio. A Pacific liner went on the rocks off San Francisco bay. Congressman Barchfeld returned from Europe and told of his meeting with the kaiser. Ambassador Jusserand of France hinted that his country may join with the United States in a demonstration against Venezuela. Minister Corea of Nicaragua is apparently working up a case against W. C. Abbott, Texas mob threatened to burn a fugitive negro at the stake if he is recaptured. The United Labor league's committee on the O'Donnell case wrote to the governor and state factory inspector on labor conditions here.

The Germans have prepared a new commercial treaty which will be submitted to Washington. Hungarian politics have reached a critical stage and the Budapest police look for trouble.

Pipe of peace is smoked by Punxsutawney weather prophets and the government weather bureau. Capt. John F. Dravo's life ended at his home in Beaver. The Germans of Blair county have revolted against the candidacy of Berry and will support Plummer. Candidate Berry encountered a terrible frost at Meadville. Philadelphia City party squelched Berry's hopes for its indorsement.

Chairman Ford named several committees and local politics grew lively. Railroad earnings for September were not up to the average of 1904. Many Pittsburgh Knights will attend the convention of the American Bankers' association, to be held at Washington, October 10, 11, 12 and 13.

Calvin Beegle's children testified that he had acknowledged their mother, but he denied it. Judge Frazer decided the county cannot tax H. C. Frick's mortgage on the cathedral site. Attorney McGary asked for a writ of habeas corpus to bring Paul Kruger from the penitentiary into court. City refused to pay a damage claim of $25 presented by a millionaire. The Avenue theater fire and the visit of a burglar are believed to have contributed to the death of a Pittsburgh business man. County detectives raided a gambling resort and the players were indignant because, they said, they had been promised police protection.

Pittsburgh won and tied with Brooklyn in the latter's last game here of the season. Cy Seymour of Cincinnati still leads Hans Wagner for batting honors in the National league. Princeton football team beat Washington and Jefferson 23 to 0. Shadyside academy opened its season by beating Trinity Hall.

NEW ANTIETAM MONUMENT.

Eighth Pennsylvania Reserves Veterans Will Commemorate Deeds of Their Long Absent Comrades.

The deeds of the soldiers in the Eighth regiment, Pennsylvania reserves, at the battle of Antietam, will be commemorated by a $3,000 monument. A regimental association has just been organized to meet the Pennsylvania monument commission in the selection of the site for the memorial. The officers are: Gen. John A. Wiley, president; Daniel McWilliams, vice president; J. W. Eberhardt, secretary. John A. Diebold, John Steele and Mr. McWilliams were appointed a committee to visit the battlefield with the commissioners.

The Eighth bore a conspicuous part in the bloody fight on the banks of Antietam creek. The division was commanded by Gen. George G. Meade and occupied a position on the Miller farm, which was far on the Union right commanded by "Fighting Joe" Hooker. The reserves got into the fighting at dawn and struggled through that memorable morning with Stonewall Jackson's veterans. The monument will be placed on the Miller farm, on the spot where the Eighth suffered its heaviest loss.

Passengers Have a Scare.

The armature of a West View car burned out at 7 o'clock last night going up Sandusky street, Allegheny, near South Diamond street, setting fire to the floor of the car and causing a small panic among the 50 or more passengers aboard. The firemen at No. 6 engine company put out the blaze with a chemical. No one was injured, but the car was put out of service for the night.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 2.6 feet and the river was stationary.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 1.—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was eight feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from Cincinnati were: Courier, Maysville, and City of Cincinnati, Louisville. Clear and warm.

GALLIPOLIS, O.—River four feet and falling. Cloudy and warm.

OIL CITY—River three inches, falling. Clear, warm.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—River five feet seven inches and falling. Weather cloudy.

WARREN—Six-tenths below. Clear, warm.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Two feet two inches, falling. Raining, warm.

POINT PLEASANT, W. VA.—River two feet seven inches and stationary. Up—Tacoma, D. T. Lane. Down—Greenwood.

GREENSBORO—River six feet one inch and falling; cloudy and warm. Columbia down Monday. Westward up.

LOUISVILLE, KY.—River stationary. In canal, four and one-tenth feet; on falls, two feet; below locks, eight feet. Showers.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—River four feet five-tenths and rising. Rainfall from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. Clear tonight. No boats.

GOTHAM'S LABOR MARKET ALSO ENJOYS A BOOM

Fewer Idle Wage-Earners In City Than There Were Even in 1902, the Banner Year of the Decade.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y. Oct. 1.—In its last quarterly bulletin, published today, the state department of labor says now there are relatively fewer idle wage-earners in New York that there were even in 1902, the most prosperous year of the decade. Returns to the bureau of labor statistics from trades unions embracing a membership of about 100,000 wage-earners show that the average monthly number of unemployed members was only 151 per 1,000 in the first half of 1905, as compared with 203 last year and 168 in 1902.

The machinery and hardware industries, which had been depressed for more than a year, have nearly recovered their former condition of activity, not only in this state but throughout the country. In the transportation business and the clothing industry there was much less idleness than heretofore, and in building and construction, which probably employs more men at present than any other New York industry, the volume of production has been unusually large.

In the months of April, May and June work was begun on 7,316 buildings in New York city as compared with 5,154 a year ago. The estimated cost of projected buildings, for which plans were approved and permits issued in the second quarter of 1905, attained the amazing sum of $78,417,869.

AUTO GOES ON RAMPAGE.

Wrecks Fire Plug, Which Floods Street. Street Car and Buggy Run Over Two Men.

An automobile, said to be the property of Gordon Montgomery of 5728 Baum street, ran over a fire plug at Fifth and Denniston avenues, yesterday afternoon, breaking the plug off and flooding the street. The chauffeur stated that he was obliged to turn in on the pavement in order to avoid running down an automobile which had suddenly turned from the other side of the street. The water continued to flow from the broken plug until the arrival of an inspector of the water department, who shut off the water from that circuit. The automobile was not seriously damaged.

Walter Clark of Allegheny was struck by a street car at Forbes and Magee streets yesterday morning, and was cut about the face and sustained bruises about the body. His injuries were dressed in Mercy hospital.

Michael Lee of Seeley alley, was run over by a horse and buggy in Butler street extension, near Haights run, yesterday afternoon. His right ankle was broken and he sustained several bruises. Thomas Aiken of Butler street was the owner and driver of the rig.

Gambling Machines in Stores.

The South Side police are making raids on places where gambling machines are kept and 12 confiscated machines are now at the South Thirteenth street police station. They were found in small confectionery stores, which are patronized by children almost exclusively. Inspector T. B. Werner had the policemen tell the storekeepers that if they install any more gambling machines they will be prosecuted.

Boy's Fun Ends Badly.

William Wright, aged 8, of 6100 Broad street, jumped on a street car on Franks-town avenue last evening to run a few blocks "for fun." He was in his bare feet and in jumping off landed on a broken bottle. The lad immediately fainted. Dr. H. Kellogg dressed his wounds and sent him home in a wagon. His left foot was badly lacerated.

Groetzinger Carpet Co

Turkish, Indian and Persian Carpets and Rugs

An Autumnal display—rich in the designs and colorings of the Orient, and in variety, size and price to suit every requirement.

A collection of masterpieces of Oriental art as applied to the loom, unequaled by anything yet shown in this market.

We have already proved that in the selling of these goods we are far in advance, in both selections and in the manner in which we price them—basing all prices, as we do, on commercial values—and not on eastern romance. We cannot describe so large a stock—nor specialize as to prices—THEY MEAN NOTHING UNLESS YOU SEE THE RUGS—therefore see them.

Our Oriental Rugs are offered on the same low profit basis that we have always sold our Domestic Rugs—this means 25 TO 50 PER CENT LESS than prevailing prices in most Oriental Rug stocks—

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—After losing 15 straight games to the New Yorks, the Cincinnatis won the second game of the double-header this afternoon, darkness making victory sure, after the visitors had played their fifth inning. In the first game Ewing's bases on balls were costly. Mertes' sensational work in center field in the 10th inning, prevented Cincinnati winning. Attendance 14,000. Scores:

PHILLIES ARE TWICE BEATEN BY THE CHICAGO CUBS

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The locals won both games from Philadelphia today, outfielding the visitors and making all of the hits for extra bases in both. Schulte stopped a home run hit off Bransfield's bat in the ninth inning of the first game by a great jumping catch against the left field bleachers, injuring himself badly. Lundgren allowed but three scattered singles and struck out eight men in the second game, scoring an easy shut out. Errors gave Chicago the winning run in the opening game and half of their scores in the second. Attendance 16,000. Scores:

INDEPENDENT PEOPLE THINKING OF LEAGUE

Independent baseball people are discussing a proposed league, which is expected to be organized soon at a meeting in Pittsburgh. The towns which are being considered as possibilities are Uniontown, Washington, Waynesburg, Canonsburg, Fairmont and Clarksburg. The Waynesburg team next year will be under the management of Sherman Grim and George Auld, who have been liberal supporters of the team in years past. These gentlemen want Milt Montgomery to remain as field captain. Canonsburg is soon to organize a stock company, and it proposes to play daily next season.

Saturday marked the close of the race in the Ohio and Pennsylvania league. The pennant goes to the Ohio Works by over 100 points. The next three positions, however, will be in dispute until President Morton issues his official bulletin. Niles, Akron and Zanesville all claim second honors.

Mert Whitney, with an average of .350, is supposed to be the leading hitter in the Independent league. Harry Keller, the Braddock first baseman, is hitting at .338.

Umpire List of Akron, and Jack O'Toole of Niles will both be found in the Interstate league next year. Both umpires have received offers for next season and will likely accept. The salary is $150 in the Interstate.

All the players on the Fairmont team have left for their homes. Capt. Willig has returned to Williamsport, Pa.; Howard Reese will go to his home at Williamsport before entering college; Harry Bumling has gone to Sharpsburg, where he will be engaged in a drug store. Buck Jackson and William Ridgeley remain in Fairmont; Lefty Jackson and Swartling will spend the winter in Pittsburgh; Wharton returns to Wheeling, and Allen to Cincinnati. Sneeden goes to Grove City and Uhrey to Clarksburg, W. Va.

George McConnell of the Johnstown and Cumberland teams will return to Johnstown to spend a few weeks and will then return to his home in Tennessee. He will probably sign a Buffalo contract next season. Friend will go to his home at Chillicothe, O., while Carriveau will return to Columbus, and Reeder will spend the winter at Muncie, Pa. Catcher Millman will return to Baltimore and next season will be with Providence. Westlake, catcher, will go to a farm near New Cumberland, W. Va. Of the infield, John Raley will go to Bloomington, Md., to work in the mines; Venable goes to Washington to resume his government job; Danny Meehan is in Pittsburgh, and Grubb will return to Sunbury, Pa., to spend the winter on a Pennsylvania engineering corps. He will be with Altoona again next season. Of the Cumberland outfield, Stern (Raney) will return to Washington to resume his studies at the Georgetown university, and Hooker, manager of the Cumberland team, returns to his home at Richmond, Va.

Ben Montgomery, the catcher, is attending Waynesburg college.

Saturday, October 9, will be Beltzhoover day at Exposition park. Hans Lobert, now playing third base with Chicago, and Otto Knabe, drafted from Pueblo, both graduates of the Beltzhoover team, will be presented with a gold watch. The Beltzhoover rooters will be out in force. Tickets have been placed on sale and all persons wishing to join the delegation will meet at Luckhardt's. Tickets are on sale at Luckhardt's.

BROOKLYN AND ST. LOUIS EACH WIN ONE GAME

COACH PIEKARSKI IS SATISFIED

W. & J. Football Instructor Says His Men Have Improved 50 Per Cent in Four Days.

W. U. P. to Start Practice Today at Exposition Park—Other Gridiron Gossip.

The Washington and Jefferson eleven arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from Princeton. All the players are in fine shape save Seamon, the left tackle, who was put out of commission Saturday. Coach Piekarski was pleased with the showing of his pupils. "W. and J. played 50 per cent better football against Princeton than against Westminster. I am satisfied with the showing and think that from now on the team will do well. Princeton looks stronger to me than last year and I should not be surprised to see it win from Yale this year." The W. and J. players praised the work of Hupp, the end, and McFarland, the quarterback.

Coach Jack Lang is the "white-haired boy" at Westminster now on account of the excellent showing of his football team. Westminster won its first victory from West Virginia when it captured Saturday's game, 15 to 0.

Right Halfback Wharton of the Shadyside academy team looks the part of a "comer." He runs well with the ball and is a reminder of Charlie Ahl when the latter was considered the star of all local school halfbacks.

The W. U. P. eleven will practice this afternoon at Exposition park. Walter East, the crack end, is expected to join the team tomorrow. The W. U. P. players yesterday were loud in condemning the tactics of the spectators at Butler in crowding on the field, thus preventing runs by their men.

For Wesleyan Saturday Van Surdam's work at quarterback was a feature. He made runs of 50 and 75 yards, the former for a touchdown. Coach Reiter's brother Jake made his debut at end and played a star game. Cunningham, a freshman who prepared in Washington, D. C., kicked a drop goal from the 25-yard line. Hampson, Gildersleeve, Day and North played well.

In the practice game at Yale Saturday Jones, the former Exeter player, showed his mettle in the second half. The varsity punted to him from the center of the field and he made a dash, reaching the 40-yard line before he was thrown.

Mercersburg opened its season Saturday, beating the Marysville collegians 29 to 0. The Mercersburg line-up was as follows: Left end, Cleveland and Webster; left tackle, Yost; left guard, Campbell and Walters; center, "Pat" Stewart; right guard, Smith and Kirberger; right tackle, Lynn; right end, Palmer and Fort; quarter, Crippen; left half, Stewart and Sparrow; right half, O'Brien and Sullivan; fullback, Adams and Rhyne.

Arch Williams, the former Shadyside captain, has passed his examination and enters Yale today.

At the end of the game with Cornell Colgate's men were on the verge of collapse.

Harvard was forced to play without the services of Capt. Hurley and Quarter Back Starr Saturday, but notwithstanding their absence the team work was good and the "pulling and pushing" was the best yet seen in preliminary games at Cambridge.

Entrance examinations have deprived Yale of a promising football player in Andrus of Lawrenceville school, who weighs 235 pounds and who is of just the timber most needed in Yale's line this year. Failing to pass, he left for Phillips Andover academy to study another year. Yale will lose, at least temporarily, Paige also. He enters this year from St. Paul's school. Conditions which he must work off by special examinations later in the term will keep him out of play for some time.

Fordham college has a new football coach, Eugene Magee, who has been appointed to succeed "Fred" Smith, who resigned owing to pressing business duties. Magee is a Fordham 1903 man and played tackle on the varsity. He is an instructor in the college.

At Andover Saturday Phillips-Andover won from the Revere A. A. A., 29 to 0.

STATISTICS OF THE PENN FOOTBALL MEN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—During the past week Dr. R. Taltt McKenzie, the University of Pennsylvania's physical director, has completed his physical examination of all the candidates for the Penn eleven. This was necessary before any of the players were permitted to go on the gridiron in a regular game. The statistics thus obtained show that the Red and Blue eleven this year will be considerably heavier than in 1904.

If the men who have been playing together during the last week finally succeed in making the team the eleven will average about 185 pounds, fully 10 pounds heavier than the 1904 championship team. The following are the official statistics of only the most promising candidates as compiled by Dr. McKenzie:

Player and position.	Height.	Weight.
M. S. Reynolds, halfback	5.11½	163
G. W. Weede, end	6.00	161
D. W. Draper, tackle	5.11½	208
M. F. Herr, guard	5.10½	247
H. R. Bankart, center	5.10	198
A. B. Ziegler, guard	6.00	203
J. Z. Robinson, guard	5.08	203
R. G. Torrey, center	5.10½	181
J. L. Junk, guard	6.02¼	215
F. K. Pogel, guard	6.02	193

LEAGUE BOWLERS ARE NOW IN LINE

The Allegheny County League Circuit Will Be Entirely Completed by Friday Evening.

LIST OF TEAM BOWLERS

At the meeting of the Allegheny County Bowling league at the Federal alleys last night, the South Side section resigned, leaving three sections on the membership roll. The Allegheny is now the only one complete. St. Boniface failed to send a representative, and Sharpsburg, represented by Elmer Moreland, was admitted in its place. The section now consists of the following clubs: Federal, Northside, Crescents, Coeslis, Royals, Millvale, Millvale Independents, Allegheny, Troy Hill and Sharpsburg.

The Pittsburgh section needs one club to fill out eight teams, and three to fill out ten. The clubs now in the sections are: Brunswicks, Fleischmans, Logan (formerly St. Joseph), Carrick, Hazelwood, Great Eastern and Glenwood. Commercials, Liberty, Rough Riders, West ends and Wilkinsburg had no representatives. Sam Heidebuechel, representing the Unity team, was not prepared to say whether or not the members would agree to go to Carrick to roll. The club will hold a meeting early this week to decide the matter. The Pittsburgh section was given three until Friday to complete its circuit. There is no doubt that the section will be filled, as there are several teams on the South Side anxious to enter. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Lenmaster, Wilson and Angel, was appointed to look after the matter. It will report to the executive committee of the County league at this office on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Monongahela section is to line with seven clubs, Wilmerding, McKeesport and the Arcades of McKeesport having no representatives present. The section was also given until Friday to complete its circuit. The members now are East Pittsburgh, Braddock, North Braddock, Munhall, Homestead, Duquesne and Turtle Creek.

Nearly all the clubs submitted their membership lists to the secretary. They are as follows:

J. F. BYERS WINS CUP.

Defeats R. P. Nevin, Jr., in Finals for President's Trophy at Allegheny Country Club.

In the finals for the president's cup at the Allegheny Country club J. F. Byers defeated R. P. Nevin, Jr., 1 up. Both played excellent golf, Byers capturing the last hole in a splendid 3.

The president's cup as well as the handicap cup were presented by Harry Darlington, president of the club. The latter cup was won by W. N. Kerr. The tournament was announced last Thursday and brought out the golfers, and the competition was keen for the handsome trophies.

WADDELL DECLARES HE HURT SHOULDER SHAVING

RIGHT END SIMPSON
Of the Trinity Hall School Football Team.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—George Edward Waddell, the Athletics' great pitcher, and until recently the idol of the fans in this city, has been cured. He says so himself. For three weeks the "Rube" has been out of the game, suffering from a sore shoulder, he asserted.

"I was shaving," declared the "Rube," "when something went click in my shoulder. All of a sudden I was all right again. I can fling as well as ever now. I want the doctor to look my arm over and see for himself."

Yesterday the physician had an X-ray photograph made of "Rube's" afflicted arm. He had the negative developed this morning and will have a print made at once. He had expected to find out just what ailed the

MID-CONTINENT OIL FIELDS TAKE ON RENEWED ACTIVITY

General Advance in Price an Agreeable Surprise to Kansas and Indian Territory Producers. Demand Is Largely Increased.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDEPENDENCE, KAS., Oct. 1.—The price of all grades of oil, both eastern and western, advanced last week. In this field the advance was scaled from one cent a barrel for high grade to five cents a barrel for fuel oil. Thirty-two gravity oil now brings 51 cents a barrel and fuel oil 35 cents. This is an advance of 10 cents a barrel on heavy oil in about two weeks.

While conditions throughout the world have been favorable to an advance, and while eastern prices have been going up, no immediate change in Kansas prices had been expected until Kansas oil could find an outlet to the markets of the world. Therefore the general advance came as a most agreeable surprise.

The rapid movement of the market is accounted for by the heavy drain upon American stocks and the sudden demand from Russia as a result of the destruction of petroleum property in the Baku district.

Information from Russia is to the effect that a naphtha crisis is beginning to make itself felt throughout the central and southeastern provinces. Many steamboat owners and small manufacturers are ruined. The price of mazout, or naphtha residue, which is practically the only fuel in this region for railway, shipping and industrial purposes, has risen at Baku from 5 to 20 copecks a pood, and the supply may entirely cease, because the oil concerns will probably be compelled to close owing to the insecure condition of the country.

Some of the Russian concerns are strong financially and will be compelled to fill their contracts. As a result there is a demand for American oil and especially fuel oil. There is no assurance when conditions in Russia will improve.

The east cannot supply the demand. The oil is not there. Stocks are being drawn upon, and as is always the case when the demand exceeds the supply, the price is going up.

In Kansas and the Indian territory practically all the oil is being taken from those companies connected with the pipe line and operating their wells. Chautauqua and Montgomery county producers, and they own the bulk of the Kansas production, state that all their oil is being run. Even stocks have been drawn upon in the Cleveland pool. The Indian territory is running most of its oil now, except in some parts of the Ramona field and the Chelsea-Allume district. The daily runs now show that the production at this time would not exceed 50,000 barrels a day.

This means in cold terms that the production of this field is not as much as many supposed it was. In spite of the 600 or 800 wells drilled the past three months the estimated production is not any higher than it was prior to the drilling of these wells. The territory wells drop off in production quite as rapidly as Kansas wells. Many wells are being drilled and some fine producers are being brought in, but it begins to be evident that if much of a demand is made upon this field as a result of the far eastern situation, constant drilling will be necessary to maintain the present stocks.

There is, in fact, no change in the situation here so far as an outlet is concerned, and many profess to see no hope for much of an advance in the market until there is an outlet such as the completion of the Whiting pipe line, but the fact that the eastern stocks are decreasing so rapidly that this oil is soon to come into eastern competition, and the further fact that the production here is not what it was expected it would be, are indications of better times shortly. This sentiment prevails all through the mid-continent field. Oil men are hopeful. There is no property for sale except at prohibitive prices, big houses are being paid still for leases and plans are making for a great deal of new work during the winter. Altuwe is humming, Chautauqua county is doing three times the amount of drilling she was a month ago. Cleveland maintains her lively clip. The future looks bright in the mid-continent field.

AMERICAN SECURITIES ARE THE HARDEST HIT

Rise in London Bank Rate Promptly Affects Them—Steel Is Well Supported.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1905, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The outburst of speculative activity, which was expected in some quarters at the conclusion of the holidays, has not yet put in an appearance. The close of this week found things rather upset by the report that a very large firm of brokers was in difficulties. The throwing over of a large block of stock from this source in an endeavor to save the position was alleged to be the cause of a mysterious selling, which was the subject of discussion on the market during the latter half of the week, but no actual crisis, it is said, is likely to be permitted to occur, as the interests involved are much too large.

A week ago, the absence of any advance in the bank rate on the previous Thursday was a disappointment to those members of the house who recognized such a movement could not longer be delayed with safety, and that it might just as well have been made when the markets were prepared for it; but this week the only doubt on the market was whether a rise of one-half of 1 per cent would be decided on, and when it became known the directors had lifted the rate from 3 per cent to 4 per cent there was a pretty general feeling of relief, and business at once became quite brisk.

With the reserve down to $120,000,000, and a proportion of only 46 per cent of the bank's liabilities in hand, it would clearly have been dangerous to delay the advance, but for once in a while the directors in Threadneedle street showed a desire to protect the gold supplies of this country with the least possible inconvenience to the business community.

The two groups which were adversely affected by the change were gilt-edged securities and Americans. The drop in the former was quite inconsiderable, and the opinion is generally felt and expressed that there can be little doubt that consols and other highest class issues will in the near future adjust themselves to the altered monetary conditions.

In some measure the weakness in Americans is due to the demand for money in New York, on the idea the advance in the bank rate will prevent the United States securing any more gold from London.

For the time being, however, the monetary situation is the dominant factor in connection with Americans. Steel issues have been well supported on the rumors that the September quarter will show net earnings but little below the record.

Postmaster Francies Laid Up.

Postmaster John Francies of Allegheny is confined to his room with a badly sprained ankle, sustained Saturday night by slipping on the boardwalk in front of his home.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK IN THE LOCAL MARKETS

Sugar Drops Thirty-Five Points. Flour Strikes Near Bottom. Provisions Also Down.

Chief of all the interesting features of the market last week was sugar. Early in the week a cut of 15 points was announced and this was followed Saturday by another of 20 points, making 35 for the week. The battle between the opposing sugar manufacturers is still on and the commodity is just as likely to go much lower as to start on the other trend.

Flour also weakened again during the week and fancy patents are now down to $5 10@5 15. The market has improved somewhat, as it is generally believed the figures for the winter will be close to this mark and buyers are willing to risk a little. The northwestern mills report a very much improved trade for the past week.

Green goods did very little all week. Fruits were in ample supply and the demand was generous. Butter, eggs and cheese were all weak, and the three looked like a much cheaper market for the winter than prevailed a year ago. Those who packed butter and eggs during the summer at the prices then prevailing are now fearful of heavy losses, and it is said the Chicago packers stand to lose many millions of dollars on these two articles alone. The provision market also sustained a quarter-cent cut in all lines, beginning today.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts Saturday were: Pennsylvania, 74 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 1 car corn, ½ car straw; 2 cars feed, 1 car rye; B. & O., 3 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car feed, 1 car straw. Lake Erie, 15 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 2 cars corn.

The market was very active for oats all week. Receipts were not large, barely sufficient for the demand, and arrivals were picked up. The market continues strong and high. Shelled corn is scarce and the market high. Ear corn is slow sale, as the demand is limited at this season of the year. Middlings have been quite active and prices hold firm. Receipts of hay have not been heavy during the week, and the tracks are all cleaned up. Good grades of timothy, clover and clover mixed are wanted.

GENERAL LIQUIDATION WEAKENS THE MARKET

December Option on Wheat Sags 3-8 of a Cent—Other Staples Show Losses.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—General liquidation in the wheat pit resulted today from heavy forward movement of the new crop. In consequence, the December option closed ⅝c off. Other staples showed fractional losses—corn ⅛c, oats ⅛@¼c, and provisions 2½c to 5c.

The wheat market was decidedly weak throughout the session. From the start the market was subjected to much selling pressure. The greatest weakness was manifested in the September option, which ranged between 75¼c and 75½c. Closing out of numerous small lines of wheat for September delivery was a feature of trading. News of the day was almost entirely favorable to the bears. Cables were lower. Receipts in the northwest were heavy, and the price of cash wheat at Minneapolis was off about 2c. Arrivals today at Minneapolis and Duluth were 1,115 cars, against 1,009 cars a year ago. The movement of the new crop in the northwest is said to be retarded by a scarcity of cars, a report from Minneapolis claiming that arrivals of wheat at that point would be 1,400 to 2,000 carloads a day if the railroads could furnish necessary equipment to handle the grain. In addition to the heavy movement in the northwest receipts today at all primary points in the United States showed a huge increase, total arrivals being 1,700,000 bushels, compared with 1,565,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. At the opening December was off ¼@¾c at 84½@84¾c on 876 2 Irish, 50-lb tubs .....$6.00 Lake herring, 100 lbs. .....$4.50 do 20-lb .....$1.15 do 10-lb 52c

Part of the loss was regained on covering by shorts. September delivery showing the greatest reaction.

The market, however, closed weak, with December at 83½c. September closed at 81¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 272,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,115 cars, against 1,561 cars last week and 1,100 cars a year ago.

Considering the sharp break in wheat, the corn market held remarkably steady, although prices showed slight losses. Local receipts were small, but the total primary movement was 26 per cent in excess of that of the corresponding day a year ago. A number of cars were received in Chicago today from Central Illinois, but the grain was said to be absolutely unmerchantable. Several leading commission houses were liberal sellers. Lower prices at Liverpool aided the bears. The market closed steady. December opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 47½@47¾c, declined to 46¾c and closed at 47¼@47½c. Local receipts were 256 cars, with 19 of contract grade.

The oats market was affected to some extent by the slump in wheat. The market, however, was held comparatively steady by the purchasing of nearly 1,000,000 bushels of May oats by a leading commission house. Liberal receipts tended to produce a bearish sentiment. December opened a shade lower at 28¾c, sold off to 27⅞c and closed at 28c. Local receipts were 237 cars.

With the exception of a small flurry in September pork, the provision market was steady. A few lots of September pork were wanted, but the offerings in excess of the prospective purchaser had bid up the price 50c a barrel. In general trading was very quiet. At the close January pork was 5c off at $12 37½. Lard was down 2½@5c at $6 77½@6 80. Ribs were 5c lower at $6 47½. Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 21 cars; corn, 242 cars; oats, 205 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

The leading futures, as reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., Farmers bank building, Pittsburgh, members of the Chicago board of trade, ranged as follows:

BAPTISTS STRONG IN THIS COUNTRY

Pastor Returns from Abroad and Says 60 Per Cent of the Denomination Is Here.

SCORES EDUCATIONAL ACT

The Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, who has just returned from a three months' tour through Great Britain and France, occupied his pulpit yesterday and in the evening preached to his congregation on "Baptists in England and Elsewhere."

"United States is the greatest Baptist land in the world," said Dr. Stanton. "Among 7,190,400 English-speaking Baptist church members 4,600,800 are in this country. In non-English-speaking Europe, South America, Mexico and Central America there are 150,345, and in pagan lands about 143,000.

"It is interesting to note that 5,000,000 of the 7,500,000 are of the white race and speak English. But it remains a fact that in our times Christianity is a white man's religion. The yellow, brown, red and black men have Christianity only as it comes to them through the missionary zeal of the white man."

Dr. Stanton visited Baptist churches, or chapels, as they are called, in London, Harrowgate, Oxford, Sterling in Scotland, and Dublin. He also went to a service in Paris. In these he found the people worshiping in good houses and the congregations composed of substantial, intelligent, middle-class people—very much such a class as furnish most of our Baptists in the United States. The oldest Baptist church in London was organized by some Lincolnshire men in 1612. They had become Baptists in Holland and returned to their native land strong in the new faith they had espoused among the Dutch. Continuing, he said:

It is a well known fact that the whole missionary movement of modern times began with two English Baptists, William Carey and Andrew Fuller. At the missionary rooms in London is still preserved the box in which Dr. Fuller took up the famous collection of £13 2s 6d, October 2, 1792, that marked the beginning of modern missions to the heathen among Protestant bodies, Baptist and otherwise. There is also preserved a memorable sign, "Second hand shoes bought and sold." It once hung over the door of Carey's shoe shop from which he went to India to become the founder of missions there, and one of the greatest scholars and linguists of his time. From such humble beginnings modern Protestant missions sprung, and the Baptist Missionary society which those men organized in Kettering, England, now has a fine building in the heart of London and an annual income of about half a million of dollars for evangelistic purposes in foreign lands. It now has 250 men and women in the foreign field, in addition to some 400 native preachers.

All the world knows Bunyan, Milton, Havelock and Spurgeon as great English Baptists, and all Great Britain today knows the Baptist minister, John Clifford, D. D., as the leader in the present passive-resistance movement against unjust taxation for the benefit of the Church of England, a movement that will be the undoing, and result in the speedy disestablishment of that church unless there is prompt relief. Thousands in the church itself are tired with indignation concerning this wrong, and refuse to pay the tax, suffering the despoiling of their goods and sometimes even imprisonment rather than indorse such injustice to those who are not members of the established church.

I am glad to say that everywhere our English and Welsh Baptist brethren are at the front in this passive resistance. I attended one meeting in Hyde Park at which Dr. Clifford was the chairman, and when he rose to speak the thousands there made the park ring with their applause. He is today one of the greatest forces in England and is pastor of a London Baptist church. In close sympathy with him and almost equally beloved and honored by the resisters is the Rev. Dr. F. B. Meyer, also a London Baptist, and well known in this city and country.

OBSERVE RALLY DAY.

Sunday School Celebrations Are Held in Many Churches.

Many local congregations that did not observe Sunday school rally day last Sunday, celebrated that event yesterday. The Mt. Washington Baptist school held special services in the afternoon. Former teachers met former scholars and the event was in the nature of a reunion. Short addresses and music were provided.

In the Herron Avenue Presbyterian church and in the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, special rally day exercises were also held yesterday afternoon. At the latter celebration addresses were made by the Revs. Ora Samuel Gray of Amherst, Mass., and Edward A. Young, while an orchestra of 10 pieces furnished an interesting musical program.

BISHOP PREACHES SERMON.

Dr. W. B. Derrick of A. M. E. Church Occupies Local Pulpit.

Bishop W. B. Derrick, D. D., LL. D., presiding prelate of the Pittsburgh conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church, occupied the pulpit of Bethany church, Wylie avenue, yesterday morning and delivered a sermon on "Fighting and Contentions of St. Paul, With Its End and Reward." He was listened to by a large congregation.

During the services the annual report of the congregation was read and the pastor, the Rev. Dr. W. S. Lowry, announced that he would not be a candidate for reappointment. Bishop Derrick is on his way to Wilkes-Barre, where he will open the 30th annual session of the conference on Wednesday.

PASTORS SAY FAREWELL.

Several Methodist Episcopal Ministers Preach Final Sermons.

Several Methodist Episcopal clergymen in the local district preached their final sermons to their congregations yesterday. The annual session of the Pittsburgh conference begins tomorrow in Beaver when, as usual, the business of most import will be the ministerial assignments for the coming year. Few changes are expected and those anticipated have already been mentioned in these columns.

Next Sunday will be "Conference Sunday" in Methodist Episcopal churches, and the majority of local pulpits of that denomination will be filled by supplies and lay preachers.

GREED FOR MORE MONEY CURSE OF PROSPERITY

Dr. S. Edward Young Cites Recent Revelations as to Effects of Good Times.

Under the sermon theme, "The Curse of Prosperity," the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, last evening reviewed the recent public references to the misuse of public moneys and the charges of misappropriation and graft. He took for his text Deuteronomy viii:3-11, "A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack anything in it. Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God in not keeping His commandments," and said in part:

From Atlantic to Pacific, from Bradstreet to your grocer's ledger, from high finance to the newsboy's penny bank, comes the unanimous verdict that these last five years have broken the record for prosperity, while from penitentiary and from police headquarters, from legislative investigating committee and juvenile court, from gossip and the columns of the morning and afternoon papers pour in the evidence that moral crookedness has likewise broken the record.

When did you ever read of so many defaulters for such big sums, such wholesale misuse of other people's money, such octopus-like graft, such extortions and injustices by giant corporations, such highway robberies and petty thievings as just now when people least need the gains of these iniquities?

Shall we, therefore, pray that prosperity may cease? No. Prosperity of itself is good; but every day we should have heard those scripture words, "Knowest thou not that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?" The first and simplest explanation of the seeming fact that wickedness thrives on prosperity, lies in the general principle that a man cannot drown his appetite for whisky by drinking barrels of it. The more he indulges the more the craving has him. Money for money's sake always means, by and by, a defaulter or extortioner, if the chance arrives. Money for any self-centered purpose is bound to fetch the soul so seeking it into devious ways.

The second explanation is probably to be discovered in the terrible extravagance these fine times have fostered. An extravagance that has raised the cost of living until the ordinary wages of five years ago will not by any means buy what they bought then. Which man will sweetly endure seeing his neighbor or member of his set outdo him in lavish display of wealth? Which woman can contentedly observe her social equal's dress or bonnet eclipse her own? More risks, then semi-crookedness, then downright iniquity, then disgrace—so they that take the dollar shall perish by the dollar.

The third explanation is the fact that you let prosperity jostle God out of your plans and heart. Once there was a time for Him, for at least two church services a week, for family and private prayers. Where have you been as time after time Lord's day morning has found your seat unoccupied in the sanctuary? Prosperity has seduced you into spending that morning otherwise. I wish human nature did not work this way; but your prosperity or good name or good health may have to be sacrificed for your soul's sake.

Missionary Workers' Conference.

The monthly meeting of the Young Peoples branch of the missionary societies of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will be held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon. The feature of the meeting will be a missionary workers' conference, led by Mrs. J. A. Potts of Mt. Washington.

Concludes His Pastorate.

The Rev. Albert Flick preached his farewell sermon to the Thirty-third Street United Presbyterian congregation last night and formally declared the pulpit vacant. He will assume charge of the Second church, Verona, next Sunday.

DESPITE INCREASE IN PRICES OIL STOCKS ARE DECREASING

Another advance in the credit balance market was the feature of the week just closed. On Thursday morning the purchasing agency advanced the quotation for crude of the Pennsylvania grade from $1 26 to $1 61, making the highest point reached during the year. On the first day of the year the credit balance market for Pennsylvania crude was $1 50, but it did not remain long at that point and continued to decline till it reached $1 27, where it remained till a little more than two weeks ago it began to advance rapidly, three points at a time, followed by a 10-cent advance, and then again last Thursday a 5-cent advance.

The less valuable grades have not shared proportionately in the advance. For the first time since the price to be paid for the best grade of Kansas and Indian territory was fixed at 50 cents, the price was advanced, making the quotations for that grade 51 cents. The heavy grades, including fuel oil, were advanced 5 cents, the quotation for the latter now being 35 cents as against 25 cents three weeks ago.

Now that 24 cents has been reached as the price of high-grade crude, it will be a matter of some interest to watch the effect on the industry. It is quite apparent that the fields producing high grade crude are not now nor have they during the year been able to meet the demand. There is no doubt about the appreciation in the market stimulating field developments, but it is purely problematical as to whether they will, under the most active development work, be able to meet the demand. The old fields have been very closely drilled over, except in some parts of West Virginia and Southeastern Ohio. Even in those two sections the most that can be hoped for will not be better than small wells. There is no longer any known prolific producing territory undeveloped. Widcatting does not now have the possibilities that at one time existed in the lower southwest.

Formerly a few of the larger companies held proven territory in reserve and developed it only when occasion required. This is all changed now. None of the large or small operating companies have any considerable territory that has not been in part or wholly developed. Should the search for strictly new producing territory result in the discovery of new and prolific fields, the vexed problem may be brought nearer to solution. The old wells will contribute something to help swell the production, and it is the cleaning out and shooting of the old wells from which the first increase in production, if any, will come.

The most notable effect the advance in the market has had is in the old fields, where the shooter is getting busy and the producers are putting the wells, neglected during the depression in better shape to make them increase their yield. Though the increase of production will be small in the aggregate, it should amount to considerable. The partial reports of the pipe lines, or those that publish a statement from day to day of runs and shipments, show that the production for the past month will fall close to a half million below the consumption. With a continued drain of that or less on the stocks it will be but a matter of months till the bottom of the tanks will be scraped.

The most important discovery of the week was the completion of a good producer in the new development, near Wellsburg, Brook county, West Virginia. This location is slightly in advance of developments and when drilled into the Berea grit pay produced 150 barrels the first 24 hours. Judging from the amount of development work that has been done, this pool promises to have the distinction of being the narrowest discovered during the year. Its average width is not more than a few hundred feet and a little divergence from the northeast and southwest line results in a dry hole. There is a little new work starting in advance of developments, and if the producing formation broadens out the pool will show increased activity. Brook county has received considerable attention at the hands of the wildcatter in the past, but nothing came of it till the Wellsburg pool was discovered. The oil is encountered in the Berea grit and the wells show fairly good staying qualities.

In the deep sand districts nothing better than light producers were encountered. The completions were few in number and confined to the old districts. Where the same deep sand territory that has not been fully developed, and with a still higher market will receive attention. It is claimed by those who are interested in that territory that the price of crude is still too low to be an incentive to take chances on light wells in those districts. Drillers are encountering with frequency and assist the development work. Hazardous, Harrison county has some territory that can be developed with some assurance of getting small producers. Doddridge and Lewis counties contain a small amount and both will be in line for increased development work when conditions warrant the investment.

The shallow sand districts in Wood, Ritchie, Pleasants, Tyler and Wirt counties will be the first to show any marked improvements in operations. At this early day new locations have been made in nearly all of the counties named, and the drill will be bouncing at old locations in the old fields and in new places in the near future. The Yellow Creek district in Calhoun county, is still the most active and promises to hold that position for some time. The new well on the G. W. Silcott farm to the northeast of developments has opened a considerable stretch of new territory and in that locality there will be an improvement.

On the Ohio side an increase in development work is confidently expected. The cost of drilling is less than on the West Virginia side, and the chances for getting producers as good. The Keener sand and Berea grit developments, near Woodsfield, Monroe county, show an increase in new work. In the last-named development the late wells are of a better average in size than in any other field. Some of the best start as high as 60 barrels a day. Washington county completed a large number of wells during the month, but the amount of new production was comparatively small. On Wells creek, in Jefferson county, some important test wells are drilling and will be soon due in the sand. So far all efforts to extend the producing area of the pool have failed.

The local fields are very quiet and there does not seem to be any room for much improvement in development work. The territory has been closely drilled and the only chance for a betterment is to fix up the old wells and put them in shape to make them make a little better showing.

The advance in the market has caused producers to place a higher value on their producing properties. Some holders who had placed their property in the hands of brokers to negotiate the sale have now withdrawn or have advanced the price to a point that will not be entertained by those who were inclined to purchase.

New Teachers for North Braddock.

The North Braddock school board on Saturday elected two new teachers. Miss Helen Russell of the Shady Park schools tendered her resignation and Miss Ada Newton of West Elizabeth was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Leone Turner of Braddock was elected to teach a new room which has been added to the First ward school on account of the crowded condition there.

Last Service in Old Church.

Morningside Presbyterian congregation held farewell services in its old building yesterday. Ground was recently purchased for a building in Chislett street, which it is expected to erect at once. The pastor, the Rev. C. E. Ludwig, will dedicate the new West Etna mission next Sunday and will devote himself to that work until the Chislett street church is erected.

WHITE ELEPHANT OUT OF THE PARK

Sloping Expanse of Lawn Replaces Ugly Electric Fountain Near Bigelow Statue.

IMPROVEMENTS COST MONEY

That $50,000 two-acre piece of ground to the right of the Bigelow statue in Schenley park looks a good deal better now than when the unsightly mound covering the electric fountain reared its ugly brow. It is called the $50,000 tract, but the figures refer, not to the cost of the land, but merely to the money it took to put the fountain there and maintain it and grade, prepare and plant the ground.

Instead of the unsightly mound aforesaid, surmounted by squat poles tangled in electric light wires, the visitor to Schenley park sees a broad expanse of gently sloping ground, now showing the brown earth, but soon to be covered with a growth of green grass and to be still more beautiful when the trees at the edge have grown tall and broad enough to shut out the view of the useful but not handsome buildings of the Carnegie technical school.

It cost the Pittsburgh Railways Company or rather a corporation that now is one of its constituents, about $40,000 to bring the fountain paraphernalia to Pittsburgh and install it, for it was necessary to dig a big hole in the ground in which to plant the machinery, the hole being then roofed over. The traction company operated the fountain for a couple of seasons and then, acquiring parks of its own, it turned the property over to the city. The city operated the fountain one season, but finding the cost and public indifference too great, just let the fountain stay unplaying thenceforth. Four or five years passed and recently the fountain's machinery and the poles and wires were removed, the hole was filled up, the ground was graded, rock was blasted out in many spots, soil was carted to fill depressions, the tract was plowed three times, harrowed seven times with disc and spring-tooth harrow, and finally sown to lawn grass seed, all at a cost of about $10,000. These improvements make the tract look three times as large as it was before, and Flagstaff hill now slopes to the foot of the Bigelow monument. It will look very pretty when the grass grows.

It was believed by those in charge of Schenley and Highland parks because it was a sunshiny morning, that there would be big crowds in both pleasure grounds yesterday, but the sky clouded up in the afternoon and visitors were comparatively few. Even the zoological garden in Highland park had few visitors. The only animal donated during the week was a small alligator, presented by W. J. King of Winebiddle avenue. In the Phipps conservatory in Schenley park the chrysanthemums are still in the propagating houses, but if the weather stays bright and warm the flowers will bloom so fast that the chrysanthemum show may have to be advanced a week. It was thought the flowers would be ready to exhibit on October 29, but the show may begin on the Sunday before.

OLD HOME WEEK IN HARRISBURG

Celebration Opens With Special Religious Services in All of the City's Churches.

GOVERNOR IS PARTICIPATING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 1.

The old home week celebration in Harrisburg opened today with special religious services in the churches, all of which were crowded morning, afternoon and evening. At many of the churches sermons were preached by former ministers and were listened to by former members of the congregation. There will be special union religious services every evening in the week except Wednesday, when the usual prayer meetings will be held.

Among the former Harrisburg clergymen who participated in today's services were the Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Robinson of the Western Theological seminary, Pittsburgh; the Rev. Dr. George B. Stewart, president of Auburn Theological seminary; the Rev. Dr. David M. Shilling, St. Louis; the Rev. Dr. Reuben H. Armstrong, Philadelphia; the Rev. Dr. L. Potter Hayes, New Bloomfield; the Rev. George W. Stevens, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal church; the Rev. A. F. Goodloe, Virginia; the Right Rev. James H. Darlington, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church; the Rev. Dr. William A. West, McConnellsburg, and the Rev. Charles O. Noll, Carlisle.

Ex-Gov. Stone, who will be one of the speakers at tomorrow's exercises at Reservoir park, arrived here this evening from Pittsburgh. He was met at the railroad station by the ceremonies committee and escorted to the residence of Congressman Olmstead, where he dined with Gen. Horace Porter, former ambassador to France, who will be the congressman's guest this week.

Other speakers at tomorrow's exercises will be Gen. Porter, Adjut.-Gen. Stewart, Benjamin M. Nead and Mayor Gross of Harrisburg, and Gov. Pennypacker, who will preside.

The speakers and distinguished guests will be escorted to the park by the governor's troop and a battalion of the Eighth regiment, N. G. P. In the evening there will be a mass meeting at the board of trade under the auspices of the Dauphin County Historical society, with addresses by Theodore B. Klein, deputy secretary of internal affairs, and Dr. John P. Keller.

Hold a Chicago Negro.

William Johnston, a negro, aged 39, who, it is alleged held up Mrs. E. Elford of Forbes street at Forbes and Lawn streets and took her chatelaine bag with $4 50 in it, was given a hearing before Magistrate Negley yesterday morning, and held for court in $500 bail. Johnston says he came here Thursday from Chicago, where he lived at 556 State street.
